City Firm Asks Licence to Run Timbered Area

Crowe, Gonnason Would Log 30,000-Acre Nootka Forest

Crowe Gonnason Company of Victoria has applied for an area of 30,000 acres in the Nootka Sound area under forest management licence.

The firm made the application for an area containing some 750,000,000 feet board measure of standing timber following return of its timber cruisers from the Nootka area.

A spokesman of the Department of Lands and Forests said yesterday the application would have to await the return of the minister, Hon. E. T. Kenney, and the deputy minister, C. D. Orchard, from Europe, October 1.

OVERLAPS

It overlaps an area for which Tahsis Logging Co. had previously applied.

The block adjoins timber limits containing nearly 50,000,000 board feet which the privately-owned Crowe Gonnason Co. bought outright in 1927 from the heirs of the late Senator Cox of Chicago. The timber, which is chiefly large Douglas fir, has been known to lumber trade circles for years as one of the finest stands of Douglas fir on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The firm is controlled by North of Fort Rupert, Douglas St. in this city, and gives way to hemlock and cedar. Some of the world's choicest hemlock grows in the Nootka Sound area. It is tall and straight-grained.

USES FOUND

In the past it has been mostly used for pulpwood. Now hemlock lumber is gradually finding its way into structural use, and also used in high-grade flooring.

A Crowe Gonnason spokesman said yesterday that his company believes hemlock will eventually be used for manufacture of veneers (plywoods). In view of the ever-increasing scarcity of the large specially suited fir logs required in the manufacture of veneers, it seems likely that technical obstacles (kiln drying) and mechanical problems in the way will be mastered.

Extensive exploratory tests are now under way with this in view.

The Forest Management Plan calls for replanting as much timber as is removed. It aims at sustained yield.

Majava Queried on Oakes Murder Mystery Clue

Assistant Police Superintendent Augustus Roberts (left), of Nassau, Bahamas, questions ex-seaman Edward Majava, 31, Roberts flew to Oakland, California, after Oakland police advised him that Majava claimed to know who had killed Sir Harry Oakes in Nassau in 1943.

BULLETINS

Game Fatal

CANNES, Sept. 20 (INS).—An English textile magnate won 55,800 francs from Egypt's King Farouk in the Palm Beach Casino today and then dropped dead of a heart attack, apparently caused by the excitement.

Abandon Hope

METEGHAN, N.S., Sept. 20 (CP).—The five crew members of the swordfishing craft Ida Zoha were given up for lost tonight after the capsized 50-ton boat was found overturned off this southwestern Nova Scotia coast.

Ruled Suicide

HOKSETT, N.H., Sept. 20 (INS).—A verdict of suicide by poison was pronounced today in the death of Helen Nardelli, 35-year-old secretary to Dr. Herman W. Sander, whose body was found yesterday in a wooded ravine.

Fight Mine Fire

MERCOAL, Alta., Sept. 20 (CP).—Miners tonight worked 700 feet underground in the Mercoal River Hard Coal Company's mine here in a sealed fight to fire with heavy water in an abandoned working.

Knows Oakes' Killer Says Toronto Woman

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP).—The question of who killed wealthy Sir Harry Oakes, revived this week seven years after his murder, took on today still another "who-dun-it" aspect.

An English-born Toronto woman was quoted by The Toronto Star as saying she knows the story behind the fatal bludgeoning of the Canadian mining magnate in Nassau, Bahamas, in 1943.

The woman, who said the actual slayer was the son of a white father and a negro mother, would disclose neither her own name nor that of the killer.

Monday, in Oakland, Cal., Edward Majava said he had been told the name of the alleged murderer by a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., woman artist. When questioned, the artist, Mrs. Hildegarde Hamilton, said it was Majava, a 31-year-old mechanic, who had told her.

What either disclosed was still a secret today. But acting-superintendent Augustus Roberts of the Nassau police flew to Oakland after interviewing Mrs. Hamilton.

The Star quoted the Toronto woman as saying the killer was only a hireling of a "powerful" plotter.

She was quoted as saying:

"It is quite well known that he (the murderer) hired a man to do it for him. He planned and paid for it and the slayer was merely his tool.

POWERFUL CITIZEN

"Everybody in Nassau knows he did it and that he did it because his thought Lady Oakes would marry him, but he is so powerful that nobody from the governor down dares to touch him."

The newspaper described the woman as a friend of Betty Renner, 27, of Washington, D.C., found dead in a well in the Bahamas last Wednesday.

It quoted the Toronto woman as saying Miss Renner—a lawyer—made inquiries about the Oakes case, possibly picked up information dangerous to the man involved and may have vowed to do something about it.

HAD TO GO

"Well, after that, she had to go," said the Toronto woman.

Sir Harry's son-in-law, tried and acquitted of the murder, said Tuesday he "fervently hopes" new developments would solve the slaying.

OAKLAND, Cal., Sept. 20 (INS) —Assistant police superintendent Augustus Roberts of Nassau, B.W.I., said tonight he believes Edward Majava, who told police he knew the identity of the slayer of multi-millionaire Sir Harry Oakes, "is telling the truth."

The British Colonial police official said late tonight after an all-day quizzing of Majava:

"I feel Majava is telling the truth. I have finished questioning him and his story will require further investigation. If this story holds up we will prosecute."

He refused to elaborate.

Marines Pressing To Heart of Seoul

Battle for Capital Looms As Fresh Reds Aim at City

TOKIO, Sept. 21 (Thursday) (AP). — United States Marines inside Seoul drove toward the heart of the city today, ahead of Communist soldiers and tanks bearing down from the north and south to join the battle.

The marines entered the capital city of 1,000,000 from the northeast Wednesday night. Another marine spearhead seized Seoul's airfield just across the Han River from the city's east side.

But a battle for the city appeared shaping up.

The United States 10th Corps said a Red 320-truck convoy with 40 tanks had sped out of the Chinese Communist border city of Antung in Communist Manchuria.

COLUMN SIGHTED

Air pilots first spotted the column 30 miles south of Antung. It was reported this morning as probably below the 38th parallel—within 30 air miles of Seoul. Its nationality was not known.

Other Red reinforcements were rushing up from the south. But the main road leading south from Seoul toward Suwon was cut Wednesday night by the marines who overran the suburb and the airfield. And the United States 7th Division troops also were moving to—and the highway. Artillery on high points controlled the road.

The marines who entered Seoul proper had crossed the Han Wednesday morning eight miles northwest of the city. They covered the eight miles to Seoul and entered the suburbs at 6 p.m. Wednesday (5 a.m. E.D.T.).

Marines, operating under a big umbrella of planes, were expected to reach the heart of the city of 1,000,000 some time today.

United States 10th Corps officers estimated the Reds have about 16,000 troops available for Seoul's defence. However, these are reported to include security police and even students hastily recruited at Pyongyang, the Red capital, and given gun but little training.

The Reds, moving up from the south down from the old South Korean front, 128 miles to the southeast.

From the old southeast beachhead, Associated Press Correspondent Stan Sesteron reported that U.S. 2nd Division units opened a push at dawn today to expand bridgeheads west of the Naktong River. Some elements fought their way across ridges past an ancient ruined castle.

A.P. Correspondent Jack MacBeth reported today from the northwest end of the Pusan perimeter that U.S. troops are within less than three miles of trapping a strong Red force in the Waegwan area.

Thousands of Marines swarmed across the Han Wednesday despite heavy enemy fire Tanks followed. Then the whole force streamed four miles southeastward to within four miles of Seoul.

A second column was even closer to Seoul on the west, but the broad Han stood between it and the capital. This Marine force was in a suburb a mile from Seoul.

Likes Democracies, Colonel Surrenders

WITH THE U.S. ARMY IN SOUTHWEST KOREA, Sept. 20 (Thursday) (AP)—The chief of staff of the North Korean 12th Division surrendered today to the United States First Cavalry Division.

He is Senior Colonel Lee Hak Ku. He is the highest ranking Red Korean officer yet to surrender.

Colonel Lee said he had been studying democracy for a number of years and finally decided it was the best way of life.

For this reason, he said, he took the first opportunity to surrender.

Heads U.B.C.M.

MAYOR PERCY E. GEORGE

Elevated yesterday to head B.C.M. delegates meeting in Nelson to presidency of the organization. Election is regarded as a signal honor for Victoria's mayor since he served as president of the organization only a short time ago, in 1945-46. (See stories on Page 7.)

Peat Blaze Imperils Tiny Town

NEWHOOK, Alta., Sept. 20 (CP).—A shift in wind at sunset brought through the menace of a giant smoking fire closer to this tiny Northern Alberta village.

"It's getting worse," said Mrs. Edward Pollard, telephone operator, assistant postmistress and registered nurse.

"It's getting now so we can hardly breathe. It's just as bad as in 1926 when the people had their things loaded on trucks ready to leave."

BURNING FOR YEARS

For three days an army of 200 villagers has fought the creeping fire which has been burning for years in the peat bog which lay dormant until a high wind Monday whipped it into fury.

This afternoon the wind died down slightly and some fire fighters were able to leave the protection of the village to fight in an extension of the same fire which surrounded a farm two miles distant.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Legg and their child of three weeks escaped from the farm as the fire closed in.

But tonight the wind shifted and the fire fighters were recalled to help save the village.

Mrs. Pollard said that despite the rain thrown brought on by the shift in wind no one had moved to evacuate the village.

"No one will sleep tonight," she said. "Those trees aren't fighting the fire couldn't sleep if they wanted to—the smoke is too thick."

The fire so far has destroyed more than 1,000 acres of surrounding farmland.

Friction Mounts in Berlin In Police-Seizing Contest

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP).—East West friction scratched new sparks in this Four-Power city today.

The rival city governments engaged in a running duel of arresting each other's policemen.

The Soviet sector decided to shut off its electric power to the American, British and French sectors at midnight tonight.

Three companies of American, British and French troops began combined two-day military manoeuvres on the shores of the Havel River in Berlin's western outskirts.

The manoeuvres followed similar combined exercises in Western Germany and the disclosure that the Three Powers are stepping up plans for West Berlin's defence.

The East press sputtered with rage over the Big Three Foreign Ministers' decision in New York. The West press purred with delight.

The Russians charged the Western Powers' decisions were "incredible preparations for war." Their official newspaper, Tageliche Rundschau, said the increase in Western occupation forces in Western Germany was "an act of aggression," and the creation of a mobile German police force the camouflaging of a West German army.

The Berlin police squabble grew out of the arrest in the East zone "people's police" who blustered into the Western sectors Monday.

Goes to Speed Jail Releases

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP).—John Stilwell, personal representative of Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, will arrive here tomorrow to facilitate the release from prison of 306 Doukhobors.

The 306 Doukhobors were ordered released in the greatest act of amnesty in Canada's history.

About 190 other Doukhobors convicted will have their sentences reviewed. (See also story on Page 8.)

Commonwealth Called Pipeline Of Democracy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (CP).—How British Commonwealth countries of the Far East form pipelines of democracy in Asia was described to an international lawyers' convention today by Stuart Garson, Canada's Justice Minister.

The Commonwealth members in the East give the free Western world an "invaluable" contact with Asia, Garson told a joint meeting of the Canadian and American Bar Associations.

Many Eastern countries, shaking off colonialism, had the choice of becoming self-governing democracies as the Western world knows them or of becoming totalitarian satellites.

He saw an indication of the "essential soundness of the British Empire" in one fact. Indian political leaders had spent many years in British jails but when they had the choice, they remained as members of the Commonwealth.

All Powers in U.N. Urged To Contribute to Force

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP).—State Secretary Dean Acheson today called on all members of the United Nations, Communist and non-Communist alike, to contribute armed forces for a United Nations army to put down aggression in any quarter of the world.

Speaking to the fifth U.N. General Assembly's 353 other delegates and also proposed a roving peace patrol to seek out international trouble spots. He called on the Assembly to clear its decks for action against aggression, if necessary, on 24 hours' notice.

Acheson put Formosa before the Assembly as a matter of special and urgent importance.

SOVIET CHARGE

Acheson spoke in general debate which began in the Assembly this afternoon. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky replied with a charge that Acheson was trying to lead the Assembly down a road that "has nothing in common with the U.N. charter." Russia, he said, will not take this path.

Vishinsky then submitted what he called Russia's "program for peace," calling for a condemnation of war propaganda, a ban on atomic weapons, a reduction of armaments of all countries by one-third and a five-power peace pact.

In a general review of the tense times, Acheson said there was no longer any question whether the U.N. would survive.

Acheson said Russia's conduct has not made war inevitable but that it has lengthened the shadow of war.

Hard Work and Sweat Sailor's Lot In War Zone, But Canadians Adjusted

By LIEUT. A. J. PLOSZ, R.C.N.
Naval Information Officer,
H.M.C.S. Cayuga.

WITH THE CANADIAN DE-STROYERS OFF KOREA, Sept. 20 (CP).—Canada's three destroyers—Cayuga, Athabaskan and Sioux—have been operating under United Nations command in the Far East for more than six weeks and life for the officers and men is pretty much one would expect in a war theatre.

At sea it means hard work and sweat, for out here the temperature and humidity are high. In port it can mean swapping yarns over refreshments with sailors of other countries, shopping in the canteens and in the local shops or dancing in a club with a Japanese "taxi-dancer," some of whom speak hailing English with a Brooklyn accent.

The naval base where the destroyers come after sea duty is situated near a hill-sided city of wooden houses set along sloping hills.

CURRENCY PROBLEM

Shopping facilities are good and anything from gaily-decorated silk kimonos and silk scarves to chopsticks can be purchased. There is a currency problem—Canadian currency is needed aboard ship; American occupation dollars, or C.I. script, and the American post exchange and American clubs. Hongkong dollars for British canteens and Japanese yen for local shopping—but the boys soon get used to it.

In the way of recreation there is swimming, softball, tennis and basketball. Inter-ship competitions are keen and there are movies on board ship and at the theatre in the Canadian Red Ensign Club ashore where admission to a first-run Hollywood production is 20 cents.

At sea the destroyers operate blacked out and the ventilating and cooling systems have had a hard time keeping pace. The protective anti-flash clothing makes upper deck work warm.

NO PICNIC

It's no picnic out here, but nobody expected that it would be.

The Canadians have wasted no time in adjusting themselves to local conditions. It's not uncommon to see a white-clad sailor from Alberta or British Columbia riding with mock majesty in a rickshaw, awkwardly manipulating a pair of chop sticks over a bowl of rice in a restaurant or sitting on the floor in a home enjoying a cup of tea with a Japanese host.

When the Canadians go visiting, they leave their heavy navy-issue shoes at the door, in compliance with Japanese custom.

In this lovely natural harbor are units of the American, British Canadian, Australian, New Zealand French and Dutch navies. The language barrier presents no problems to the resourceful sailor who masks themselves understood with an amazing collection of gestures, facial expressions and pidgin talk.

Burglar Says Will Return

City police are wondering just how mean their lately "fishing pole" burglar is going to get.

Tuesday night he hooked a purse containing about $30 through a bedroom window while the owner, Mrs. Dorothy Lee, 1016 Moss Street, was dining in the next room with a friend.

Last night Miss Ramsay received a phone call from the alleged thief who made it clear that he was a "real burglar" and not a "fishing pole thief."

"I am the cat burglar and I will be back before the end of the month," he declared. Police are waiting.

Para-Rescue Team Aboard

Mercy Plane Completes Second Portion of Flight

EDMONTON, Sept. 20 (CP).—The R.C.A.F.'s specially-equipped Dakota tonight completed the second leg of its mercy flight to the top of the world.

At 7:08 p.m. (P.D.T.) it landed at Resolute Bay where the crew will spend the night. Tomorrow at sunrise they take off for the five-hour trip to Eureka Sound where Cluster Leroy Havens, an American scientist on the Transport Department's weather station, lies serious ill from blood poisoning.

The plane left Edmonton early today on the 2,150-mile flight in Eureka Sound. It landed for fuel and a weather check at Baker Lake, N.W.T., this afternoon before taking off for Resolute Bay.

Havens will be evacuated to an Edmonton hospital, possibly arriving here Friday or Saturday, if the Dakota carries no difficulties and is able to land at the weather station.

A three-man para-rescue team, headed by an air force doctor, will jump to the scene if the plane cannot land. The Dakota is equipped with a jet device which allows it to take off in about one-third the distance usually required by an aircraft of its type.

A last-minute addition to the plane's crew, PO. Y. A. Castillaz of Melita, raised to 11 the number of men on the mercy mission.

Since crews the ground at Eureka Sound and temperatures are around the zero mark. Flying weather along the Dakota's route is reported fair to good.

The Weather

Victoria Chor — Sunny with fog patches along the shore this morning. In the morning. Little change in temperature. Winds light.

High Today—65.

Sunshine Tuesday—10 hours, 1 minute.

Next Step Towards Union Implied Up to Anglicans

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP).—The United Church of Canada said in effect today that the next step toward union with the Church of England in Canada is up to the Anglicans.

The General Council of the United Church agreed to ask the Anglican Church to join in new talks aimed at union and said it will make further efforts "when the Church of England in Canada has pledged itself in a similar definitive manner."

"It is our conviction that where there is a pledged intent on both sides, methods of co-operation can and should be worked out," said a resolution adopted by the 300 General Council delegates.

Union of the denominations was suggested by the Anglicans in 1943 and the two churches set up committees to study the proposal. A report on the discussions was presented to the Anglican General Synod a year ago.

GROWING TOGETHER

One of the difficulties encountered by both denominations was that of deciding on details of a mutually-acceptable ministry. The Anglicans have bishops; United Church members have none. Both claim to ordain persons as ministers of the Holy Catholic Church.

During today's discussions, Rev. H. A. Hilts, secretary of the Anglican Communion in Canada, and Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Anglican Bishop of Toronto, told the United Church council that the two communions have been gradually growing together.

"Some say there has not been much progress, but I do not believe it," Canon Hilts said. "A great deal of good has been done by our conversations. We understand more about your church and you of ours and perhaps of the values of Episcopacy."

MEMBERSHIP

The General Council was told in the report of the church's missionary and maintenance department that total membership last year was 806,197. Church of England membership reported in the latest issue of the Canadian Almanac was 1,084,663 but differences in the churches' systems of arriving at membership totals make comparison difficult.

The report adopted by General Council said in part:

"We should like it to be known that through these years of 'conversations' there has been cordiality of spirit, a desire to learn from each other, and a disposition to appreciate the historic traditions which each has inherited. We express the hope that the way will remain open for a continuation of negotiations and the cultivation of an ever-increasing fellowship until, by God's help, we have reached the goal of union."

Church Puts Pension Up, Cuts Bonus

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP).—The general council of the United Church of Canada today raised pensions by 25 per cent but abolished a cost-of living bonus it has paid its pensioners.

In abolishing the bonus, the council promised that if any pensioners were hard hit by the loss, their cases would be investigated and extra payment made on compassionate ground.

This action brought from Rev. E. M. Howse, Toronto, a charge that the church was setting up its own means test. The council yesterday recommended that a $40 monthly pension should be paid to every Canadian at 70 without a means test.

Under the new pension scale, United Church ministers will receive an annual pension of $25 for each year's service instead of the present $20. Ministers, on the average, serve 40 years, entitling them under the new scale to $1,000 a year instead of $800.

The plan covers all ministers now on pension and all future pensioners. Widows of ministers receive only a portion of the pension paid their husbands.

BUSY POST OFFICE

LONDON (CP). — In 12 months Britain's post office handled 8,00[illegible],000,000 letters, 240,000,000 parcels and 54,000,000 telegrams.

Seoul Street-Fighting Likened to Nightmare

(Roy Roberts was Associated Press correspondent in Seoul from April, 1946, to June, 1948. He now is a member of the A.P. foreign desk staff in San Francisco. Here he gives a description of the old city that soon may be the pawn in a clash between United Nations troops and Korean Reds.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP).—Street-fighting for congested old Seoul would be a fireman's wildest nightmare.

And there's little in the weather-greyed mass of one-story and two-story buildings to give advantage to either side in the fight—United Nations troops closing from the west and North Korean Communist forces approaching from the southeast.

FRAIL HOUSES

The city is a mass of elbow-to-elbow houses and buildings, built of mud plaster that could collapse under a hard shove. The wooden framework is tinder-dry with age.

One shot from a tank gun, an artillery piece or a mortar could touch off a blaze that would level half a square block in a matter of minutes.

A stick of fire bombs from a plane could start a holocaust.

There will be no place for civilians to hide if war comes to their dust-colored old capital city. The houses have no cellars, and there is no underground construction — no air-raid shelters, no subways, no tunnels.

BEST DEFENCES

The tallest building in the city is the seven-story Banto Hotel in the heart of the main business district. It was built by the Japanese during their occupation of Korea.

Within a few blocks of the Banto are a few other western-style buildings built by the Japanese as department stores or business buildings. They are four or five storys each.

These are the best that Seoul has to offer as defences in point-blank street battling.

Jury Split, Retrial Ordered In Optimist Lottery Case

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP).—A new trial was ordered today for three officials of the Vancouver Optimist Club charged with conducting a lottery. Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker ordered the second trial after an Assize Court jury reported they were unable to reach a "satisfactory verdict" in 93 minutes of deliberation.

Charges followed an Optimist Club draw last January for an automobile and other merchandise. On trial were David Cohen, club president; Thomas Hincks, business manager, and V. G. Hindle, draw committee chairman.

A new trial, with a new jury, will open "in a few days."

In his address to the jury, Mr. Justice Whittaker asked jurors not to be influenced by personal feelings on the justice or injustice of the lottery section of the Criminal Code.

Congress Curbs Treason

Support for Red Control Bill Strong Enough to Defeat Veto

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (INS).—Congress today passed the tough Communist control bill and sent it to President Truman who is reported ready with a veto.

But the curbs on treason and sabotage—sternest in the nation's history—were approved with enough support to spell defeat for a Presidential rejection.

Shortly after the House approved the measure 312 to 20, administration sources said Mr. Truman was drafting a veto message.

BIG MARGIN

In a quick sequel, however, the Senate passed the bill with a margin big enough to confirm that champions of the measure have the two-thirds Congressional majority needed to quash his action. The Senate vote was 51 to 7.

The President requested Congress to enact legislation controlling subversives but opposes the completed bill on the grounds that it will infringe on civil liberties.

Sen. McCarran (D., Nev.), an author of the bill, summed up its purpose in debate preceding the vote by declaring that the legislation "stands for no nonsense from commies."

But Sen. Lehman (D., N.Y.), countered that the far-reaching controls would scuttle attempts at controlling fifth columns by driving Communists underground.

Sen. Kefauver (D., Tenn.), said the bill should have carried a termination date to make it temporary legislation.

Francis Biddle, attorney-general in the Roosevelt administration, called on President Truman to veto this bill and appoint a bipartisan national committee to examine the "whole problem" of security and civil liberties.

Rebels Retreat Toward China After Attack

SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 20 (AP).—Ho Chi Minh's Vietminh rebels were reported in retreat today toward Red China from Dongkhe and French military sources said they did not now believe a general Communist offensive is imminent.

The Moscow-recognized Vietminh forces had unmasked a new punch, however, which may enable them to knock off fortified French outposts in frequent attacks from now on.

Dongkhe, 100 miles northeast of Hanoi and near the China border, fell to the Communist-led guerrillas Monday after a three-day fight. The French said Vietminh units, newly-equipped by Red China, were used in the attack for the first time.

Vastly more powerful than the ill-armed guerrillas who have resorted to ambushes and raids in the last five years of warfare, these units used artillery, machine-guns and heavy mortars.

A French communique today said air observation showed a general Vietminh movement in the Dongkhe region toward the Chinese border. Dongkhe itself was reported evacuated by its captors.

There was no official word of the fate of the garrison of 200 Foreign Legion men and Indo-Chinese auxiliaries who fought a dogged step-by-step retreat inside the outpost before hauling down the French tricolor.

Only minor activity was reported along the rest of the frontier.

Yale Acquires More Papers Of Boswell

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 20 (AP).—Yale University announced tonight that, for the second time in a little more than a year, it has acquired newly-discovered manuscripts of James Boswell, renowned biographer of Samuel Johnson.

The manuscripts turned up in Malahide Castle near Dublin, Ireland, where the Boswell collection obtained by Yale in July, 1949, also was found.

That was described then as the greatest known collection of English literary manuscripts of the 18th century.

Yale Librarian James T. Babb tonight called the manuscripts "a unique literary and historical resource of the highest significance for scholarly research."

Yale said the most important item in the new collection was more than 1,000 pages of the manuscript of Boswell's "Life of Johnson."

Also given special mention was a long, confidential autobiographical sketch written by Boswell in 1764 to be sent to Rousseau. Only a fragment of this sketch had been known heretofore.

Hearing Told Fire-Guard Increased Before Blaze

QUEBEC, Sept. 20 (CP).—Detailed testimony about alarm systems and fire-protection devices aboard the cruise ship Quebec continued today before a court of inquiry into fire aboard the ship August 14 in which loss of life is established at seven.

Henry McIntosh, draughtsman with a Montreal firm of naval architects, and Geoffrey Aldcroft, electrical engineer with the firm, told the court of additional protection methods installed in the 7,000-ton vessel last Spring.

The fire aboard the Quebec at Tadoussac, in the lower St. Lawrence, was the second within a year for Canada Steamship Lines. Last September, the C.S.L. cruise ship Noronic burned at Toronto with loss of 118 lives.

MORE GUARDS

McIntosh, giving details of additional emergency devices installed in the Quebec this year, said they included 27 klaxons which brought the total in the ship to 32. Push-buttons, controlling them, were installed in the ship's wheelhouse and the chief steward's quarters.

Fifty-four loudspeakers and microphones linked in an emergency public address system were installed this year, said McIntosh.

A fire-detection system was renewed and involved installation of 3,000 feet of copper tubing, he said.

An emergency fire-pump with a capacity of 300 gallons of water a minute was installed and with four other pumps provided the ship with a pumping capacity of 138,000,000 gallons an hour.

McIntosh said three new fire extinguishers brought the Quebec's total to 80 and new sprinklers in stair wells in the passenger section of the ship were added.

McIntosh said fire doors were added on "D" deck and steel doors were installed in laundry chutes, and exit and muster signs were renewed.

PORT SAID, Egypt (CP).—One of Britain's most powerful salvage tugs, the Bustler, has just completed a 12,000-mile towage job. She arrived here with a suction dredge which was towed across the Atlantic from Savannah, Ga.

English Confirms New School Will Be Opened on October 4

J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, confirmed yesterday that the new S. J. Willis Junior High School will open October 4.

Not all the building will be completed by that date, but there will be classrooms for the entire student body of some 560.

Lacking at first may be workshops, home economics rooms and some other sections.

Students new to the S. J. Willis Junior High School attendance area should register at the school on Friday between 10 a.m. and noon or between 2 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Students who attended schools in this area in June do not need to register Friday, as they were registered through their former schools.

Those coming to the school should enter by the roadway from Rose Street, and use the entrance on the north side of the classroom wing—which is the west wing.

MODEL RAILROADS

The lobbies of the Empress Hotel next month will be buzzing with chatter about railroads.

The occasion is the annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Region of the National Model Railroad Association to be held here October 20, 21 and 22.

More than 100 delegates will be attending from Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia. Delegates, who met last year at Seattle, will hold business sessions and will visit scale model railways in this area.

Highlight of the parley will be an Up-Island trip on a special E. & N. train.

RUNAWAY CAR

A runaway car which crashed into a gasoline pump at the Lawrence Hill Service Station, 1609 Fort Street, caused considerable damage yesterday morning.

The car had been parked on Oak Bay Avenue by Guy H. Blanchet, 670 Mount Joy Avenue, city police said. The wheels apparently had been left in a turned position because when the car rolled it curved towards the service station.

Damage to the car was slight but the pumps were considerably damaged.

Old Treasures Gathered In Hudson's Bay Exhibit

Heirlooms which have been gathering dust in attics for years will be worth $85 for three Victoria families this week.

Old treasures of many kinds are being gathered for public show in "Old-Timers' Week" at the Hudson's Bay Company's Victoria store.

Prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded for the most interesting exhibits in judging on Friday. Judges are Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, and Mrs. Blair Reid, chairman of the 60-and-Up Club.

An intriguing assortment of antique goods is already on display near the store's information booth on the same floor, and more entries are rolling in every day. Clerks Jean Allbright and Jessie Edge say that the average old-timer sidles up to the desk diffidently, as though uncertain whether his item is old enough and good enough.

FIELD WIDE OPEN

But the field is wide open. Exhibits include a muzzle-loading revolver with six barrels (not loaded), the property of Mrs. R. G. Gilchrist, 966 Humboldt Street; a five-foot historical map of British Columbia, made by Kay Earle, 95 Norquay Road; and a small automatic organ which might be regarded as the grandfather of the juke box and player piano.

The organ, owned by Mrs. G. Stelly, 942 Fullerton Avenue, was made in 1890. Metal spikes mounted on a cylinder strike its notes. When you turn the handle, the old organ grinds out "Home Sweet Home" in a remarkably sweet tone.

Other exhibits include these:

An old sword-handle dug up in the back yard of Mrs. G. H. D. Nash, 2649 Victor Street; a brass [illegible] from the old North Star, from Mrs. H. Laycock, 2550 Scott Street; a George III coin, a silver hatpin fashioned like a sword, an old glove hook, a seal's tooth, a 100-year-old Chinese doll, and a sealskin wedding garment, all the property of Mrs. Gilchrist.

TRADE TOKEN

A metal $1 trade token of the H.B.C., Mrs. S. Taylor, 215 Raynor Avenue; several H.B.C. one-pound notes, from L. H. Rawlings, 615 Linden Avenue, inscribed: "The Hudson's Bay Company promises to pay the bearer on demand the sum of one pound sterling at York Factory in Rupert's Land, in a bill of exchange payable 60 days after sight at the Hudson's Bay House, London."

A Paisley shawl 100 years old, and part of a walking stick made from the wood of the old H.B.C. ship Beaver, from Mrs. L. L. Healey, 1075 Victoria Avenue; and an old square chair made by Mr. Weeks, a pioneer settler, at Jordan Meadows in 1889. The chair, made of hand-hewn yellow cedar lumber, was packed out 17 miles on a pack-board over the original trail. It is owned by Albie Davies, 129 Menzies Street.

Exhibits Roll In for "Old-Timers' Week"

Exhibits are still rolling in for "Old-Timers' Week" at Hudson's Bay Company's Victoria store. Treasures from old families' attics are being exhibited at special counter. Above, Mrs. H. F. Ballantyne, 3127 Milgrove, hands pictures of smashed Point Ellice Bridge and old H.B.C. fort to Mrs. Jessie Edge, 1967 Oak Bay Avenue, clerk at information desk. Prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded most interesting exhibits in judging Friday.

This lady looks dangerous. Jean Allbright, 755 Oliver Street, information clerk at Hudson's Bay Company's Victoria store, holds up two exhibits in H.B.C. "Old-Timers' Week" show of long-ago treasures. One is muzzle-loading pistol and other is sword handle dug up in Victoria yard.

Schoolboys Attend Last Rites

Schoolmates acted as flower bearers yesterday at the funeral of eight-year-old Charles Eric Atkinson, who died in hospital here Saturday.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Atkinson, 3035 Stanley Avenue.

Services, held at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, were conducted by Rev. E. G. Munn.

Present, in addition to members of the family, were 25 students of George Jay School, the principal and two teachers, and fellow employees of the youngster's father.

A solo, "I'm Happy, Loved and Saved," was sung by Mrs. Iris Paver and the 23rd Psalm was sung by the congregation.

Interment was at Royal Oak Burial Park.

Gladiolus Body Presents $108 To Solarium

A cheque for $108, proceeds from two shows, was presented Tuesday night to the Queen Alexandra Solarium by members of the Victoria Gladiolus Society at their annual banquet.

R. Cheyne, honorary treasurer of the Solarium, received the donation from Alex Gray, president of the Gladiolus Society.

AWARDS PRESENTED

The annual banquet, held in the Strathcona Hotel banquet room, also was the occasion for presentation of awards to winners from the main and parlor shows held recently.

The Grand Champion, winner of the Island Gladiolus Trophy for his entry in the main show, was Sam Arrowsmith.

Ladies' champion for the same show was Mrs. C. Lyons, who received the president's cup and vase.

Dr. H. M. Young was winner of the Vance Hope Cup for his Grand Champion spike in the parlor show.

An additional feature of the dinner was the showing of a movie entitled "A Year With Gladioli," which was obtained for the occasion from the Winnipeg Gladiolus Society.

Plan to Show Wildlife Film Series

Wildlife motion pictures will again be shown in a program of films sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society in co-operation with the National Audubon Society of Canada.

The movies were made by nationally-known wildlife experts.

Series for the current season is as follows:

October 11—Karl H. Maslowski, "Beneath Buckeye Skies". November 6—G. Harrison Orians, "By Erie's Changing Shores". January 22—Lucia Palmer, "Underwater Kingdom". February 19—Allan Cruickshank, "Below the Big Bend". May 7—Tom and Arlena Hadley, "America the Beautiful."

This is the fourth season that the Natural History Society has undertaken to bring this series of lectures to Victoria.

Film-lectures this year will be given in larger quarters at the Crystal Garden auditorium, because of increasing interest in this type of nature study.

The programs are offered in the interest of wildlife protection, wise use of natural resources and conservation education.

Korea Is Still the Test of Intentions

THE world will watch to see if the Communist armies invading South Korea are bolstered up surreptitiously from outside sources, in reply to the counter-attack by United Nations forces. It is there that the test of the intention will arise. It is one thing for Russia to "talk" peace at Lake Success, and another to encourage puppet regimes in open and active aggression against the real peace of the world. Arms and munitions in North Korean hands came from a definite source. They are expendable in the wastage of battle. If, North Korea uncovers a continuing base of supply the world will not have far to seek to find its source. The next few weeks should show whether the Kremlin wants the Korean fighting ended, or seeks to keep it alive.

Apart from that, the creation of the first United Nations force in the field is a marked step in advance of any taken by the defunct League of Nations. That force is in action now in support of a United Nations' order to the invading North Koreans to cease fire and return to the 38th Parallel. Only the wishful believe that this affair could have been settled by an exchange of notes, or that aggression can be stopped by palaver. So the international force came into being in response to an active need. It is an extension of the same thought that an international police force will likely be necessary for a good long while to come. The more broadly based its composition is the better for all concerned. Also, it is time to think of such a force in terms of police doing police work, on an international plane.

If the United Nations, which has set this precedent, can make it stick, something new and perhaps vital to the success of that organization will have come into being in a fevered world.

One Communist Cat Out of the Bag

AN interesting sidelight on the Stockholm "peace" petition comes to light with the announcement by Dr. Joliot-Curie, the Frenchman who combines his scientific and Communist leanings by acting as chairman of the committee gathering signatures, that to date exactly 273,470,566 names have been secured to this document There are more names to follow, to wit:

"Several precincts have not yet been heard from. Furthermore, children who cannot yet write their names bring up the total to a figure which can be considered to amount to 500,000,000, or one-fifth the inhabitants of the globe."

Thus does Dr. Joliot-Curie betray, either through naivete or unashamed chicanery, the mathematical methods that govern the collection of these signatures. By simply adding the names of infants unconscious of what the proposition is all about, any figure that is desired can be reached. Comment as to the accuracy of the alleged 273,470,566 total is therefore unnecessary.

Meanwhile the Prime Minister of Sweden has had something to say about the linking of his country's capital city with fraudulent representations, viz: "It is with considerable feelings of disgust that we in Sweden see the brandishing of the name of our capital in international Communist propaganda. The so-called 'Stockholm Peace Appeal' has no more connection with Stockholm than similar earlier appeals emanating from so-called peace conferences."

Or with peace itself.

Outdoor Phone Booths Are Long Overdue

NORTH America, which prides itself (sometimes quite inaccurately) on being the first to devise ways to speed up communications and make things generally more convenient for everyone, has been peculiarly slow to recognize the advantages of outdoor telephone booths. The British Isles, most of Europe, and all other countries of the Commonwealth have had them ever since the telephone ceased to be a novelty and took its place as a public utility; but in Canada and the United States the time-wasting hunt for a pay-phone in drug store, hotel lobby, department store or public building goes on.

Now, half a century late, the advantages of the street booth are being recognized in Ontario and Quebec, where nearly 3,000 have been installed. The people there have the wartime and postwar shortage of telephone equipment to thank for an innovation whose usefulness has been demonstrated beyond question. Toronto and Montreal already have hundreds of them on the streets, and their popularity is such that the number is steadily being increased in both cities.

It is to be hoped that this idea will spread westward. There is no shortage of pay-phones in British Columbia cities, but the trouble, especially for strangers, often is to find them. Then the discomfort begins. The type of indoor booth in common use here is small and virtually airless, and the person in Winter street clothes who spends a few minutes in one emerges in almost fainting condition. The chief advantage of the outdoor booth, however, is that it is available 24 hours a day. Under the present arrangement annoying and sometimes serious delays are caused late at night, when nearly every store or building with a public telephone is closed.

REAL PROPERTY TAXES

Sir,—Might I be permitted to comment on the view expressed in an editorial which appeared in The Colonist a few days ago, dealing with the suggested need for consideration of municipal affairs and finances at the Federal-Provincial Conference in Ottawa in October next, a synopsis of which I presented to City Council.

In one of the closing paragraphs of the synopsis of this brief it states:

"The Province of British Columbia has already recognized the inequity of the existing system to a much greater extent than any other province of Canada by granting financial relief to municipalities for education and welfare expenditures, by the imposition of a sales tax. But this, while helpful, is not the solution to the problem."

The excessive burden on municipal councils is caused by personal services in the education, health and welfare fields. These are initiated by senior governments, either Federal or Provincial, and are correspondingly Dominion-wide or Province-wide in scope. These are not only personal services, but some features of them are compulsory or obligatory. Obviously the services provided should be practically uniform throughout the areas in which they are provided, a minimum standard in all cases being provided.

In the first place, it is only reasonable that Federal or Provincial services in this category should be mainly financed by the sponsoring Governments by means of general taxes levied throughout their jurisdictions. If there is no local administrative responsibility at all, the senior Governments should undertake the entire financial responsibility. Where there is some degree of local administrative responsibility, the responsible local area should contribute a small part of the cost, sufficient to make the burden felt, and so to prevent extravagance which is mentioned in the editorial.

This editorial suggests that municipalities might better endeavor to get their tax bases broadened rather than to press for these general services to be financed by the senior Governments. As municipalities have different degrees of financial ability, some being better off than others, such a measure would tend to promote disparity in the service provided, or if a uniform standard were insisted upon, the cost would bear much more heavily on the poorer municipalities than on those which were better off.

In any event, personal services in the health, welfare and educational fields are compulsory, and there being no practical or equitable way of charging for them on the basis of benefits received, they should be financed by taxes based on the financial ability or means of each taxpayer. It is most inequitable to employ real property as the tax base in such cases, as the value of real property holdings is not even an approximate guide to the financial means of the owners thereof. Many people do not own any real estate at all, and those who do, usually own what they need to use for their essential and differing purposes, and these are seldom related to their incomes. Consequently, the use of the main principal tax base, real property, to collect taxes to finance these general services, results in great inequity and a most unfair distribution of the burden of their cost . . .

Frost at Midnight

The frost performs its secret ministry,
Unhelped by any wind. The owlet's cry
Came loud—and hark, again! loud as before.
The inmates of my cottage, all at rest,
Have left me to that solitude, which suits
Abstruser musings: save that at my side
My cradled infant slumbers peacefully.
'Tis calm indeed! so calm, that it disturbs
And vexes meditation with its strange
And extreme silentness. Sea, hill, and wood,
This populous village! Sea, and hill, and wood,
With all the numberless goings-on of life,
Inaudible as dreams! the thin blue flame
Lies on my low-burnt fire, and quivers not.
Only that film, which fluttered on the grate,
Still flutters there, the sole unquiet thing.
Methinks, its motion in this hush of nature
Gives it dim sympathies with me who live,
Making it a companionable form,
Whose puny flaps and freaks the idling spirit
By its own moods interprets, everywhere
Echo or mirror seeking of itself,
And makes a toy of thought.

FINAL PERFORMANCE

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

IT was a tall order, thought the American supply officer during the war when he was asked to provide several hundred tons of coke for a British warship, but he was anxious to co-operate with his allies. So he shipped a multitude of cases of Coca-Cola.

Since it was fuel he was after, not refreshment, the ship's captain was astounded. I wonder what his feelings would have been if bowler hats had been uncovered when the cases were opened.

For there are more than two kinds of "coke," it seems. The hat you see perched on the heads of such dissimilar beings as former premier T. D. Pattullo and former police commissioner Joe North, but on few others in Victoria, is also a "coke," although with a capital C.

And a London hat firm still refers to its commodity, after 100 years, by the term that confused both an American supply officer and a British naval captain.

* * *

This I learn by way of an item reaching my desk from the United Kingdom Information Office in Ottawa. I mention it because at long last I am able to answer a question posed by a member of the Pacific Club—four years ago.

What was the origin of "this comely headpiece"—the bowler hat?

The query came as a result of a discussion in this column of the renascence in Britain of the bowler hat that "ruled the cranial world of the Victorian era," as my correspondent of four years ago put it. He went on to talk nostalgically of the "dear old bowler hat" and relate some interesting facts about its wear in the days when it roofed both the aristocracy and the middle classes, with the working masses resigning themselves to a cloth cap.

Anybody who was anybody in those halcyon days had a mould made of his head, so that ordering from a distance he could be sure of a perfect fit, at about five guineas a bowler. The passer-by customer picked up his hat first hand at a cost around one guinea, while those lower down in the social scale could secure this round adornment at four-and-eightpence.

To be sartorially correct, of course, the bowler called for an appropriate ensemble, formal lounge suit, striped trousers, gloves, and perhaps a rolled silk umbrella. So that when a coster was seen pushing a banana cart, attired in a jersey but crowned with a bowler, he was not competing sartorially with the crowd. It was simply, as the Pacific Club member says, "that he just didn't care a damn."

Apropos the scarcity of bowler hats in Victoria I am inclined to think this must now be a popular sentiment.

* * *

But about the bowler's beginnings. It seems that one William Coke, a member of the family of the Earl of Leicester, was an enthusiastic rider to hounds. Now back in those days, a century ago, no well-dressed gentleman would dream of hunting the fox without his top hat. As you might imagine a topper was a bit of a nuisance. Willie's was always being knocked off by overhead branches, and this irked him no end.

He was a logical lad, however, so he took his problem to his hatter, a Mr. Bowler of Southwark. The latter very ingeniously rose to the occasion with a low-crowned, streamlined version of the top hat, which, in honor of the customer who had inspired it, he christened the "Coke."

To Willie's friends the hat became a "billycock," and when the Earl of Derby popularized it in the United States it also became known as the "Derby."

The term "bowler," I suppose, derives from the name of Mr. Bowler himself. His firm is still in business and making them by the hundreds, and centenary celebrations next month will honor the man who invented this once ubiquitous headgear.

Dulles Takes Stock

By BLAIR MOODY
North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON. — John Foster Dulles has warned the nation that a far greater sense of urgency and sharper sacrifices will be required if the threat of engulfment by world Communism is to be beaten back.

"I don't believe many people are even yet fully aroused to our danger," said the special assistant to Secretary of State Acheson, on the eve of the United Nations General Assembly, which he described as likely to be one of the most decisive international gatherings in the history of mankind.

"Today's question," he added, "is whether it is within the capacity of a democracy to steam itself up and really make an all-out effort short of a Pearl Harbor.

"Our whole future may depend on our getting behind the drive to build our strength with the same sort of desperate urgency we had after the Japs hit in 1941."

* * *

Dulles, a veteran chess player, recalled that in college matches where no checkmate was obtained after a certain number of hours, an expert judge sized up the positions of the rival players and decided who, on strength of position, was the winner.

"If an expert should suddenly come down from Mars and analyze our position and our potential enemy's today he would certainly declare Russia the victor," Dulles commented.

"The safety and liberty of the American nation and the rest of the free world rest on our reversing that situation without delay. We need the tremendous drive and patriotism that the American people always come up with when they realize their country and their liberty are endangered. So far, we haven't got it."

Dulles said the Russians may hit with "a Pearl Harbor" eventually, but their clever game at the moment is to keep us off balance and wishfully hoping everything will be all right, so we will waste these precious crucial months now while they strengthen their armaments at a much faster pace.

"The country naturally has been excited about Korea," Dulles said, "but the deadly complex is growing which tends to treat it as a one-alarm fire, figure it will cost too much to make ourselves strong enough to meet the real threat, and miss the actual situation.

"All sorts of dangerously deluded mail is coming in, pacifist mail. Why not let Nehru fix up some sort of appeasement which would end the situation in Korea? Why spend all this on arms when the Russian people just could not want war? Many well-intentioned people are judging the men in the Kremlin by their own good selves.

"Russia has been turning out tanks, planes and artillery at a terrific rate. Now that we are starting, they are stepping up their production. Why?

"There is no adequate answer except that they are getting ready to take us if they can. The only way we can see to it they can't is to make ourselves strong enough, quickly enough, and that is going to take a greater drive, and greater unity, both here and in free Europe, than has yet been evident."

Canada Needs Immigration

(From The Winnipeg Tribune)

CANADA, with a sparse population and enormous undeveloped resources is vulnerable in the military sense. But it is even more vulnerable in the economic sense—a consideration which does not seem to have occurred to most advocates of a vigorous immigration policy. The point has been developed with great lucidity by W. F. Holden, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who in a recent address said that although in the military field we have support from friendly nations, in the economic field we face their competition.

Lacking consumer markets at home, we exchange our surpluses for manufactured imports or lend other countries money to buy them. When in spite of such assistance to overseas customers our export markets fade as they have in periods when they were most needed, Canada's ill-balanced economy undergoes a major crisis of over-production, unmarketable surpluses, widespread unemployment and distress.

Development of mass-production techniques in Canada is hampered by the lack of a mass consumer market within the Dominion's borders. To maintain and extend our position as a manufacturing nation, the mainstay of a major domestic market is needed.

In every past crisis whether economic or military, the Dominion's effort has been restricted by lack of manpower. Today, after five years of neglected immigration opportunities, we face the same old problem—too few people to harness the available resources, too few taxpayers to foot the bills.

The Dominion Government since the end of the World War has taken the complacent attitude that any trickle of immigrants into Canada is a net addition to the rate of population growth. This fallacy is shared by most Canadians, despite the well-established fact that population growth rates can be changed by immigration only if the volume of immigration exceeds a certain critical rate.

An immigration policy worthy of the name would have brought three times as many people to Canada during the past five years as actually arrived, and such numbers would have had a definite effect in increasing the nation's rate of growth. Canada needs a program which will bring in at least 300,000 immigrants a year. Unless and until the Government at Ottawa adopts a policy which will produce such a flow, it can hardly be said to have an immigration policy at all. Mr. Holden is to be commended for having spoken out plainly on the neglected aspect of this question.

OUT OF FOCUS

In the midst of her first driving lesson, Mrs. Williams complained to her husband: "George, that little mirror up there isn't set right."

"You think not?" George rejoined.

"No," the harassed student protested. "I can't see a thing in it but the car behind!"

For the candidate who would see himself as his opponents see him, the best thing to do is to take a look in one of those distorting mirrors.

POSTERS IN THE DARK

After six years of research, a Leeds firm has produced new colored inks which may revolutionize poster advertising. The inks are much brighter than natural colors and, it is claimed, glow as brilliantly as neon signs at four times the distance. They show to their best advantage at dawn, dusk or in bad light and, placed beside daffodils in the dusk, the new yellow ink will glow brightly as the yellow of the daffodils fades. Described as non-toxic and harmless, the inks are now being tested to see if they can be used for clothing. They are resistant to rain and can be used for head-squares and flags.

The firm offers no comment on the possibilities of this new development . . . no escape from poster ads, even at night; and luminous ladies shining like neons.

BILL, the Broad Street barber, regaled a customer with a tale of unusual incidents that occurred during his annual vacation. After listening patiently for ten minutes, the man observed: "I do not believe half of those things ever happened to a fellow like you." Bill replied with indignation: "I sort of resent that remark. I never tell a lie. In fact I have a reputation to keep." Others in the shop stopped what they were doing to hear what the conversation would bring out. Finally the customer commented: "Before you worry about losing your reputation, take a quick look to see if you still have it." Bill's answer was drowned out in roars of laughter. . . . Barber Ben strolled into the shop several minutes late on the third day in succession, and the boss growled: "While waiting for you to turn up we decided to open a fund for coppers and nickels so we will have enough to purchase you a new alarm clock for Christmas." Ben answered: "Too bad you do not understand human nature better. "It is a great pity that most of us have to begin the day's toil so soon after going through the ordeal of getting out of bed." . . . "So you are back from your holiday in the north? I suppose you do not feel much change?" a friend asked Tobacconist Martin. "Quite right. All my pockets are empty," Martin chuckled. . . . From the Keating Squire: "It is said that an optimist is a man who planted a vegetable garden last Spring, and then threw away his wife's can opener." . . . A writer commented in The New York Times that crows got up too early in the morning and made too much noise. Apartment house unpopularity polls refer to the bird who stays up too late and makes too much noise early in the morning.

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

THERE is a type of person who feels that the mere sentiment of good will is enough. You don't have to come through with good deeds.

For example, when dinner is over and everybody is about to rise from the table, there is the lady of supreme good will who leaps up first and cries:

"Now, I'll wash the dishes!"

"No, no, no," protests the hostess warmly.

In the confusion that ensues, as the men move into the living-room or out to the front veranda, and the ladies mill about clearing the table and shifting everything to the kitchen, you are not likely to observe that the lady who captured the good will of the entire company by her loud claim upon the dish washing has just had to run upstairs for a minute. . . .

Women are by no means alone in their belief in the sufficiency of the expression of good will. There is not an office or a factory or a board of church wardens or a bowling club that has not its master of the technique of asserting, in the most eloquent terms, the very essence of good will in all things. They are reasonable. They are rational. They are kindly. They have the solution of every problem.

But circumstances, at the moment, prevent them personally from undertaking the tasks involved. In meetings, they are the men who cry "hear, hear," in deep voices. As meetings break up, they are the lads who get up and move votes of thanks. Going out the door, they are the ones who have their arms chummily about the shoulders of the ill-natured guys who have been saddled with the work.

Among both the women and men, there are those who carry their good will so far that the mere intention is equal, in all respects, to the performance. A lady who expresses, clearly, the intention of having somebody to dinner, has, as far as she is concerned, had them to dinner. And the man who says: "By the way, I paid you that ten bucks, didn't I?" is possessed of a consternation that practically paralyzes him when he learns that he didn't. And he doesn't.

Soft Coal Operators Uniting to End Lewis' Divide-and-Conquer Tactics

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The coal operators of the United States are out to put an end to John L. Lewis' divide-and-conquer tactics.

An important bloc of soft coal (bituminous) mine owners meet here tomorrow to complete organization of a new group they hope will meet the president of the United Mine Workers on equal terms.

The newly-formed Bituminous Coal Operators' Association represents more than 35 per cent of the soft coal industry's production. Its founders, led by a group of Pittsburgh coal executives, hope that eventually it will present the U.M.W. with a united front of all important operators.

MAY BE HEAD

The new association is expected to announce that its president will be Harry Moses, now president of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, key firm in the coal mining empire of the United States Steel Corporation.

Moses has been mentioned for more than a year as the operators' choice. He has never said whether he will accept. If he does, he will be given the delicate yet arduous task of dealing with Lewis at coal contract time.

In the past, Lewis has often won important gains for his 400,000 soft coal miners by taking advantage of the operators' inability to stick together.

OLD FRIENDS

Lewis frequently has signed contracts with one segment of the industry and then forced the remainder to fall in line.

Moses and Lewis are old friends —although they have had bitter arguments at the conference table. Their fathers were acquaintances when Moses and Lewis were only boys. Moses also has been an important figure in past industry—union negotiations.

The new operators association is made up of coal mine owners in Western and Central Pennsylvania, Northern West Virginia and Ohio. Invitations are out to bring that operators in Western states and in the South will come into the fold.

The Southern coal producers have long had their own association. So far, they have chosen to stay out of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

Simple Payment Plan Aids Budget

Despite anything said to the contrary, there is an easy and simple way to purchase merchandise on time payments and one that will not cost the purchaser a cent in carrying charges. It's a modern, streamlined plan that has only recently been introduced in Victoria, known as the "Plan-A-Count." Take, for example, a woman purchasing a complete Fall outfit. At the same time as she makes her selection she opens a "Plan-A-Count," and the amount unpaid does not exceed $50 she may reduce the balance for as little as Two Dollars weekly. As this is reduced she is free to make further purchases without increasing the amount of her regular payments. In this way she is free from the necessity of spacing her purchases to coincide with Pay Day and can plan her payments on a regular weekly basis. A Plan-A-Count book is issued with the original purchase and that shows the exact state of her account at all times.

The "Plan-A-Count," which has met with instant popularity since its introduction in Victoria, is offered by Eddy's Ladies' Ready-to-Wear.

U.S. Speeding Arms To Stem Red Thrust

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The United States is speeding arms to Indo-China but will not send troops to help block a threatened Red Communist assault in that embattled corner of Southeast Asia.

High officials reaffirmed this policy today on the heels of official French reports that Communist-led troops have captured one French strong point in Indo-China and are grouping to attack another fortress area near the border of Communist China.

BY FRENCH TROOPS

Even before the Korean war, these officials explained, France understood that her long and draining fight against the Communist Vietminh rebels would have to be waged by French troops and loyal native units.

However, Indo-China was given a top priority for arms aid immediately after the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Within the last two weeks 12 battalions of Indo-Chinese troops were organized and equipped primarily with American arms.

A French aircraft carrier arrived in the Pacific port this week to pick up a load of U.S. navy planes for direct shipment to Indo-China.

RENOVATING VESSELS

The navy is speeding the renovation of the last of 145 small vessels earmarked for the former French colony.

American officials generally do not consider Indo-China of first-class strategic worth to the U.S. They recall, however, that until June 25, Korea was touted as of secondary strategic importance, the difference in its case and that of Indo-China being:

The United Nations set up the Republic of South Korea and the U.N. left the Republic of Laos, in fighting there to defend and re-establish what it set up.

France is still in charge of foreign relations and defence in Indo-China.

U.N. Making Progress Towards Police Force

Interpreting the News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. News Analyst

With the United Nations "police action" in Korea about to enter its fourth month, and with many of the reinforcements promised by its members still "on order," the United States has begun a move to see that the organization is not caught napping with its military force unprepared.

In doing so State Secretary Acheson drops the generalized approach which the United States has usually followed in the United Nations and calls directly for counter-action against the policies of Russia.

DESIGNATED UNITS

The United States proposes a rules change to permit the General Assembly to meet on 24 hours' notice instead of ten days if the Security Council veto prevents action by that body and would have military forces constantly ready for call should the Communists repeat their Korean actions elsewhere.

These forces would be mobilized from regularly designated units in the national armed forces of each country. Thus the long-standing failure to obtain agreement on a permanent United Nations force would be offset.

The General Assembly would be expected to call these forces into action upon information supplied by a permanent "peace patrol" organized to survey and report on threatening situations.

There is more involved, however, than a mere rules change. There is the fundamental relationship between the Security Council and the General Assembly. In matters of a threat to peace the theory was that the Security Council would act, and that the Assembly would play an advisory role. But there is nothing to prevent the member countries from using the Assembly as an organizational meeting place where collective defence can be arranged.

SOVIET'S MAY CHANGE

Acheson outlined the actions and attitudes of the Soviet Union which have made necessary concerted action against her, and then said:

"Time may have had its effect. It is but 33 years since the overthrow of the Czarist regime in Russia. This is a short time in history. Like many other social and political movements before it, the Soviet revolution may change. In so doing, it may rid itself of the evils which now prevent the Soviet Union from living as a good neighbor with the rest of the world.

"We have no assurance that this will take place. But as the United Nations strengthens its collective security system, the possibilities of this change in Soviet policy will increase.

"When you take it all together — this movement in the United Nations begotten by a new pride of strength in having been able to act in Korea; the rebuilding of American military program; the speed-up in creation of a Western European army; all of the other evidences of anti-Communist unity—it is to wonder why, or if, the Russians are not thinking already of the possibilities of a profitable change."

U.K. Experts Discount Soviet Claim

LONDON, Sept. 20 (Reuters)—World-wide scientific argument is expected to follow a new Russian claim that life can emerge from non-living matter.

British scientists today discounted the theory, announced from Moscow recently, as "unproved," "unscientific" and "ridiculous" were only some of the things they said.

Though value hints were known before, the full impact of the new theory struck scientists only today.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced a Soviet Government committee had recommended award of a Stalin prize to a Georgian professor Olga Borisovna Lepeshinskaya, for her work on "cross-cellular forms of life and the origins of living matter."

Professor Lepeshinskaya had proved experimentally Tass said, that new cells could arise only through the division of living cells —the normal scientific conclusion— "but also as a result of development of living matter having no cellular structure."

MOST UNLIKELY

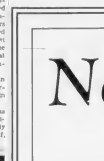

Sir Henry Dale, one of Britain's leading scientists said today the claim is as remarkable.

"I think it is most unlikely," he said. "I should want to see the evidence in great detail before believing this claim."

Sir Henry started an Anglo-Russian "cold war" when he resigned honorary membership of the Moscow Academy of Science two years ago, saying the theories advanced by Professor Trofim Lysenko, Soviet agricultural scientist, damned "all the progress made by research in that field since early in the 19th century."

First linking of the new Russian researches leaked out at the International Botanical Congress in Stockholm last July.

If Professor Lepeshinskaya's ideas were substantiated, present scientific theory which holds that only living matter can reproduce itself, would be knocked sky-high.

Sons of Freedom Given Opportunity to Become Good Canadians As 395 Doukhobor Prisoners Released From Penitentiary, Jail

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer is not unhappy about the impending release of 395 nude-parading Doukhobor men and women from jail.

If the Doukhobors misbehave, they will go back to jail, he told newsmen yesterday.

Release of the group, members of the radical "Sons of Freedom" sect, was announced yesterday by Federal Justice Minister Stuart Garson. The decision was made on recommendation of a committee appointed by the British Columbia Government to study the question.

GIVEN FAIR CHANCE

The committee, headed by Dr N. A. M. MacKenzie, University of British Columbia president, is still studying several other aspects of the Doukhobor problem.

"The whole thing is the responsibility of the Minister of Justice," Mr. Wismer said. He added that he concurred with the findings of the committee, and felt that its plans should be given a "reasonable chance" to work out.

Mr Wismer pointed out that the Doukhobors would be released on parole, and each case would be carefully scrutinized.

FOLLOWED LEADERS

Those jailed for nude parading included many who had merely followed their leaders, he said. But they would have to observe the terms of their parole.

Freedom comes on a promise to obey the law.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL GORDON WISMER . . . Not unhappy.

"It is a step which may lead to permanent peace in the lawless uprisings of the sect," said Mr. Wismer. "I feel these people will become good Canadians."

AWAIT APPEALS

The amnesty does not include a number of Doukhobors jailed for offences other than nude parading. However, the committee will study the "rehabilitative qualities" of some 100 others. They include former Sons of Freedom from the Kootenays and others who have been living at Hilliers, Vancouver Island. Some are in jail for crimes of conspiracy to commit indictable offenses, arson and dynamiting.

Awaiting hearing in British Columbia Appeal Court are the appeals of three other Doukhobors, Michael ("The Archangel") Verigin, Hilliers leader, and Joseph Podovinikoff, convicted of seditious conspiracy, and John L. Lebedoff, convicted of taking part in "unlawful, riotous and tumultous assembly."

The Canadian Press quoted prison officials yesterday as saying that the release of 278 men and 117 women may be started in two or three days. Most of the prisoners are in the penitentiary at New Westminster. The women were held at Grand Forks and Nelson, B.C., some housed in a curling rink.

The unusual mass parole is the greatest in British Columbia history.

FOUR MONTHS SERVED

The prisoners have been serving sentences of two to three years for nude parading following outbreaks of violence in Interior British Columbia Doukhobor settlements. They have been in prison about four months.

The 35-member committee made its recommendations after a two-day meeting of Government officials, representatives of churches, Kootenay communities, industries, Doukhobor groups and the staff of U.B.C.

The offenders showed a "desire to co-operate," the committee said. It also found that the exhibitions of stripping occurred in areas remote from public places, mainly at Krestova, the barren, mountain village used as headquarters by the Sons of Freedom.

Dr. N. A. M. MacKENZIE . . . Studying problem.

The nude parades were not motivated by criminal intent, but came from "beliefs peculiar to the Doukhobors," the committee said.

DISCUSS ASPECTS

During the meeting, subjects of discussion included the penal aspect of the problem, economic condition of Doukhobor communities, educational and social welfare service and the legal position of the Doukhobors.

The committee felt that a new approach to the problem could not be made while the "Sons" were still in prison. Many of them were jailed after making voluntary confessions.

The move is the first step in a new campaign to bring peace to the picturesque Kootenay Valley, which for years has been the scene of Doukhobor terrorism.

WORRY FOR YEARS

The "problem people" of B.C., the torch-bearing, hymn-singing Sons of Freedom defying man-made laws, have been a worry to authorities for years.

The 10,000 members of the orthodox Doukhobor branch in B.C. have condemned the terrorism of the "Sons," who have a membership of only 2,000.

The possibility of emigration or relocation of the "Sons" in another country or in another part of Canada will be investigated by the committee.

MORE SUITABLE HOME

"They said, through their representatives, that they would like to move to another country or some place in Canada more suitable to them," Dr. MacKenzie said.

A year ago, a spokesman for the "Sons" said they planned to return to Russia, their homeland, or to Turkey. But that was the last heard of the plan.

The Doukhobors came from Russia in 1899 on a promise of freedom from military service and religious persecution. They sought to escape Czarist persecution.

MICHAEL ("The Archangel") VERIGIN . . . Awaiting appeal.

Nude parades, fire and bomb raids have been their symbol of protest against Canadian laws. Protests have centred on school laws, the charge being made that they foster militarism.

In the last 25 years at least $2,000,000 in property has been destroyed and a toll of life taken in fire and dynamite raids.

The time used is Pacific Standard for 120th Meridian west. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables the tide rises or falls continuously during intervening times between the high and low waters as given. 8.8 feet must be subtracted from the heights in this table to conform with the datum of soundings on the charts of the locality.

Mayor George New Head Of Municipalities' Body

Mayor Percy George yesterday was elected president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities for 1950-51.

Delegates meeting this week in convention at Nelson, signified their high regard for Mayor George in voting him again into the top office in the organization so soon after his retirement from it. He was U.B.C.M. president in 1948-49, retiring from the post at the annual convention here last year.

T. R. B. Adams of Vernon was elected first vice-president; R. E. Sang of Cranbrook, second vice-president.

SEWELL RE-ELECTED

R. R. F. Sewell, Saanich, again was elected secretary, and Colin D. McQuarrie, of New Westminster, is solicitor.

The executive includes: Ald. George Miller, Vancouver; Mayor W. J. Moffat, Kamloops; Mayor L. K. Jordon, Port Alberni; Mayor Frank Goldsworthy, North Vancouver; Reeve Charles Schultz, Surrey; Mayor W. A. Rathbun, Penticton; Col. A. S. Naismith, Harrison Hot Springs; Mayor J. L. Sangster, New Westminster, and Mayor N. C. Stibbs of Nelson.

TRADITION UPSET

It has become tradition in the U.B.C.M. for the first and second vice-presidents to move up a rung each year as a president retires. This year, however, T. H. Waters of Nelson, elected first vice-president at the 1949 conference, was defeated in a mayoralty contest in the Interior city. Mrs. Nora Arnold, last year elected second vice-president, retired from her post as mayor of Prince Rupert because of poor health.

The unusual combination of circumstances forced a new election of officers at the current convention.

Mayor George succeeds Reeve S. Mussallem of Maple Ridge, as U.B.C.M. president.

Defeat Resolution to Permit Teachers to Run for Office

A Victoria resolution to give school teachers the right to run for election to municipal councils was ruled out yesterday by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities' convention in Nelson.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES

The convention voted against the resolution after hearing Victoria's Mayor Percy George declare that a responsible section of the public school teaching body was being deprived of rights in that members were not able to stand for public office.

A Rossland resolution asking that all school board employees be made eligible for public office and civic employees eligible for seats on school boards was also defeated.

Burnaby won its long fight for U.B.C.M. backing of its proposal to tax B.C. Electric buses operating on its roads. Unlike Victoria and Vancouver, Burnaby delegates stated their municipality had not entered into transit agreements which would have given them 2 per cent of company annual revenue for use of municipal streets and roads.

Victoria May Be Honeymoon Scene

VICTORIA may be honeymoon headquarters for a war correspondent in Korea and his San Francisco bride-to-be.

The Victoria Publicity Bureau received a letter from the correspondent's fiancee that read:

"When my fiance returns from Korea we want a very special honeymoon. It has occurred to me that you have the perfect place for our needs—tranquility, charm and small luxuries."

She added that she would like all information available about Victoria.

Says Municipalities Face Money Trouble

NELSON, Sept. 20 (CP)—British Columbia municipalities are facing into a "serious situation" complicated by over-spending and insufficient regard for the realities of municipal financing, they were told by B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipalities.

He said auditors and appointed officials were falling far short of their duty to tell their councils how serious the situation was, and how great the threat hanging over their heads.

"There has been more over-spending than in years of my experience," he said. "That adds up to trouble."

B.C. Hospital Plan Will Need Extra $1,500,000 Next Year

NELSON, Sept. 20 (CP).—The British Columbia Hospital Insurance scheme, operating with a $2,500,000 Government subsidy this year, will probably need $1,500,000 more next year when construction now under way brings 500 additional beds into service, Commissioner Lloyd F. Detwiller told the Union of B.C. Municipalities today.

But, he said, there will be no immediate increase in premiums during the first half of the year.

Mr. Detwiller saw the hospital scheme as a "wonderful challenge." He said it was "almost there" in settling down to smooth operation; and was establishing the pattern for many more hospital insurance schemes on this continent.

Inquiries for detailed information are "coming from all over the world," and an increasing number from this continent.

Mr. Detwiller said British Columbia is aiming for operation of the scheme on an insurance rather than a welfare basis, he said, and is rapidly achieving that status.

Receipts were climbing and it was beginning to "look like it might balance out."

MacDonald Gives Data On B.C. Education Costs

cost of education for British Columbia municipalities when sales tax is offset against annual requirements is 3.29 mills, and in some cases municipalities are even making a profit on the deal, Municipalities Minister R. C. MacDonald said today.

Throwing a mass of statistics into the threatened fight over school costs, he took the punch out of most of the planned arguments and wound up a subject it was feared would require hours of discussion at the Union of B.C. Municipalities Convention.

RE-ENDORSE BRIEF

In the end the union re-endorsed the brief submitted to the Government early this year asking for a study of school costs and grants with a view to bringing them into line with today's conditions and needs.

Delegates defeated Surrey's proposal that the Government assume all education costs and passed a North Cowichan resolution asking that, where school demands are proven beyond the ability of a municipality to pay, the Government give special assistance.

In other resolutions the convention asked for increased grants to enable union libraries to improve services and stocks; proposed that villages be given power to regulate tag days the same as other municipalities and asked the Government to institute regulations making stores on the boundaries of municipalities subject to the same control as stores within those boundaries.

DROP PROPOSALS

The convention cleared the deck as far as a large number of resolutions were concerned by withdrawing a whole series of technical and minor proposals.

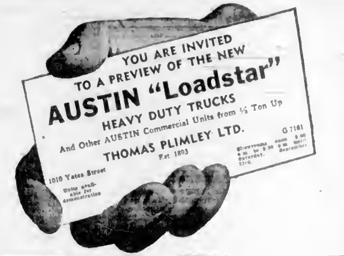

It was Mr. MacDonald's day as he stepped into the "burning question" of education costs and said there is "a very grave difference of opinion."

Delving into his statistics, he gave net cost of education, when sales tax grants were offset against school budgets, for many B.C. municipalities. They ranged from a 12-mill "profit" on the operation in Coquitlam municipality to a maximum net rate of 14.85 mills in Chilliwack city.

ALCOHOLIC DONKEY

CAPETOWN (CP).—A donkey with a liking for strong drink got his owner in trouble here recently. The man was acquitted on a charge of cruelty to animals when he pleaded that the donkey he was charged with beating had got into his hut and drunk his Kaffir beer.

Trim Lines

One of the better designers who makes clothes for the mature woman is Etta, who cuts gowns with an eye for flattery. She uses rayon faille made with Avisco yarn, smooth with sheen and a firm body, to make this dress-up suit which has sophistication, and which is easy to wear in both small and large sizes. The trim lines of the dress carry out the mood of the fabric, which is one of elegance and formality. There is no trimming except a simple tassel, and the soft neckline is especially becoming.

"Y" Open House Display Attracts Many Visitors

Any Victoria woman, from teen-ager to grandmother, who complains because of long, dull Winter evenings has only herself to blame if she does not investigate the wide possibilities offered by the Y.W.C.A. Hundreds of visitors, young and old, male and female, enjoyed the well-known "Y" hospitality at the "open house" last night and also received a syllabus' eye-view of the Autumn and Winter activities.

Program director Miss Eleanor Turvey and her assistant, Miss Kay Burt-Smith, manned the small army of members who made up the welcoming and directing committees. Ida Bianco of Radio Station CJVI played records and gave spot announcements.

Brisk, petite Mrs J B Hudson directed the laughing confusion of would-be square dancers in the downstairs lounge. She commences instruction of the mixed classes on September 28 and judging from the enthusiasm of last night's onlookers, she will be having capacity classes.

Others on hand to direct and inform guests were Mrs. Ray Forster, president of the board of directors and chairman of the membership committee, and Mrs. D. W McDuffee, chairman of the program committee who, with Miss Burt-Smith, was kept busy answering the barrage of queries at the information booth.

In the dining-room, Mr. H. S Sinney, campaign director of the Community Chest, spoke briefly and showed the film "The Red Feather." Mrs. Chris Coldwells assisted him as projectionist in showing the other film, "This Is Our Story," depicting "Y" growth.

The constant stream of visitors found interest in the photographic displays depicting other phases of "Y" work including the Sunshine Camp at Sooke, the Overseas Wives Club and the Girls' Hi-Y. Latvian Alvine Riekstina, a member of the "Y" New Canadians group, proudly displayed her hand weaving and Mrs D Young, director of the leatherwork classes, presided over the display of tooled bags, billfolds and keycases. Miss Marjorie Bain of the "760's," age group from 18 to 21 clad in her shorts and gym shoes and carrying her racquet and shuttle received many queries about the popular badminton nights.

Following is a list of activities scheduled and further information may be obtained through the Y W C.A. Monday, Leathercraft, Badminton, V.O.N., Junior Y Teens, Y Ens, Junior Choir; Tuesday, Glee Club, Sub-Debs, Mother's Day Out (a new venture where mothers may leave their children with qualified supervisors and engage in their own activities); Wednesday, Keep Fit, Dramatics, Chatelaine Club and Overseas Wives; Thursday, Square Dancing, Weaving; Friday, 760 Y Teens; and Sunday, Loungers' Club.

Other officers are, Mr. N P Forbes, honorary president; Mr. R Creech, past president; Mrs. D. R Keirs, first vice-president; Mrs. G. F Hagen, second vice-president and secretary; Mrs. B A. Klunck, treasurer, Mrs. J. J Tippett, membership, Mrs. A E Jacobs, finance; Mrs O. B McKeevor, auditor; Mrs. C. A Evans, publicity; Mrs. R. W Burgess, social convener; Mr. D. A George, program; Mrs. G. Smith, sewing convener; Mrs B. Robertson, sunshine and hospital committee; Mrs. P. Bossom, magazines and literature; Mrs. R Robertson, Mrs. A L. Rutherford, Mr. D A George and Mrs G. F. Hagen, delegates to the P-T.A. Council, with alternates Mrs. G. B McKeevor, Mrs. R. W. Burgess, Mrs. H. A. Klunck and Mrs. C. A. Evans.

Mrs. Evans will convene a "get acquainted" tea for parents and teachers set for October 4 at 3 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The P-T A voted to donate $50 matching the amount offered by the city council for the purchase of seesaws for Oaklands Park.

Preparation of articles for the Christmas bazaar will commence at the sewing meeting set for Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. G Smith, 2955 Cedar Hill Road.

The next executive meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J Tippett, 2665 Avebury Avenue, on September 28.

Shawnigan W.I. Asks Lighting Improvements

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, Sept 20—The first meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute after the Summer recess was held recently in the S L A A. Hall, with Mrs. A Hallett, president, presiding. Resolutions to be presented at the forthcoming South Vancouver Island conference to be held September 27 at Sooke were discussed, and Mrs R. Hamilton was elected to represent the Institute as official delegate.

Plans were made for a card party to be held on September 22 and efforts will be made to sponsor a dramatic presentation before the end of the year.

Renewed efforts will be made, through the proper authorities for a public pay telephone at Shawnigan, and a street light in the village. A donation of ten dollars was voted towards a garbage dump maintenance fund. Mrs W Kennedy reported visiting the Institute's adopted child at the Solarium. Members were requested to notify the secretary if they wish to attend the Sooke conference.

Entertains at Bridal Tea

Mrs Christy Harding entertained yesterday in honor of her daughter, Miss Dorothy Harding, whose marriage to Mr Edward Armel Jorre de St Jorre takes place Saturday. At the trousseau tea in the afternoon about thirty family friends were present and in the evening fifty friends of the young couple called for open house. The table, covered with a lace cloth, was centred with a crystal bowl of pink and white sweet peas, lighted by matching candles. Miss Dorothy Dobson and Miss Elizabeth Harding, aunt and sister of the bride-elect, acted as serviteurs during the afternoon, and later these duties were performed by Miss Madeline Coltis, Miss Jacquline Jorre de St Jorre and Miss Leslie Field. Tuesday evening Mrs A. Hourston, 1530 Vining Street, honored Miss Harding when she was hostess to members of her neighborhood Canasta Club. Gladioli tips en corsage were received by the guest of honor, her mother and aunt on arrival. Later a handsome coffee table was presented with good wishes. At the close of the evening refreshments were served from a table centred with a white pottery bowl of pink single dahlias flanked by white lighted tapers. Those present also included Mrs. Christy Harding, Mrs H. Brenen, Mrs. Jack Trace, Mrs. Reg Lott, Mrs. J. Slade-Stevens, Miss Dorothy Dobson and Miss Elizabeth Harding.

GANGES, Sept. 20—The L.A. to the Salt Spring Island Branch of the Canadian Legion resumed meetings recently at Harbour House, Ganges, with the president, Mrs. J. B Acland, in the chair and 32 members present.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $576.33.

Six new members were installed, including Mrs W H Bradley, Mrs. Patricia Knight, Mrs Ethel Lett, Mrs Donald McLeod, Mrs. Jack C. Smith, Mrs. Lois Wilson. Letters of thanks were read from veterans in the local and the D V A Hospital, Victoria. Mrs Earle Lockwood sent in a report of her visits to veterans in the local hospital, and Mrs. Colin Mouat reported sending gifts to those in both local and D.V.A. hospitals. Mrs George Lowe stated she had sent five parcels of warm clothing, total weight 70 pounds, to the W.V.S., London, England.

Mrs Bradley was appointed assistant secretary, replacing Mrs. J. Carslake, who is leaving the Island.

Ladies' Auxiliary To Sidney Legion Arranges Agenda

Three new members, Mrs Ivy Bennett, Mrs Margaret Bryan and Mrs George Smith, were initiated at the recent meeting of Ladies Auxiliary No 63 Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, held in the Veterans' Hall, Sidney. Mrs B Gooda presided.

Plans were made to have a dance once a month, commencing this month, and regular card parties when a hall is available. A Hallowe'en dance is planned.

A tea combined with a "pantry social" will be held this afternoon in the Veterans' Hall.

MADE IN CANADA

Cheese Pie With Onion

The following recipes using cheese are excellent for Fall and Winter meals. They come from the consumer section, Department of Agriculture.

ONION-CHEESE PIE

- ⅓ cup melted shortening (part butter).
- 1⅓ cups fine unsalted cracker crumbs
- 3½ cups thinly sliced onions
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1½ cups milk
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups grated medium Cheddar cheese

Mix melted shortening with cracker crumbs and press into a greased deep, nine-inch pie plate. Fry onions in butter until tender, then place on crumb crust. Scald milk and slowly add to the slightly beaten eggs, stirring constantly. Add salt, pepper and grated cheese. Mix well and pour over onions. Bake in a moderately slow oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, until a silver knife inserted in the centre comes out clean, about 40 to 45 minutes. Yield: Six servings.

In peacetime the highest rank in the Swiss army is a colonel.

Apple Days Are Here Again . . .

Apple days are here again. Actually with our new systems of transportation, apples are never off the market, but somehow the homemakers of Canada seem to become apple-conscious around this time of the year. So, now is a good time to brush up on your tricks that utilize this palatable, healthful and comparatively inexpensive fruit.

Here are a few ideas you'll want to try:

Apples go with waffles, either diced and added to the waffle batter or as applesauce served as an "aside."

For a delicious Sunday supper, core tart apples and fill with sausage meat. Top with corn flakes or oven-popped rice cereal crumbs and bake.

Fill cored apples with a mixture of raisins, prunes, corn flakes, nutmeats and brown sugar and bake.

And, of course, you can't forget—apple pie.

APPLE PIE

- 1 quart sliced apples,
- ½ cup sugar,
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon,
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Fill pie shell with apples; sprinkle with ½ cup sugar mixed with cinnamon. Dot with two tablespoons butter; sprinkle remaining crumbs over top. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) for ½ hour; reduce heat to 300°F. and bake one hour longer, until apples are tender.

Yield: One nine-inch pie.

BRAN PASTRY

- ¼ cup ready-to-eat bran,
- 1¼ cups sifted flour,
- ½ teaspoon salt,
- ½ cup shortening,
- 4 tablespoons cold water.

Crush bran into fine crumbs, mix with flour and salt. Cut in shortening. Add water, a little at a time, until dough is moist enough to hold together. Divide dough in half. Roll out on lightly floured board to about one-eighth inch in thickness. Fit loosely into pie pan, trim edges. Roll out top crust and cut into lattice strips.

Boil beets down into a stock. Add a can of chicken consomme, salt and black pepper and add a little Canadian sherry just before serving. Once served, you'll serve this treat again.

A cousin to the Waldorf Salad may be made by mixing two cups of shredded cabbage, one cup of chopped apples, a few chopped walnuts and French dressing.

To extract more juice out of a lemon or orange, either roll it hard or first heat it in hot water.

Autumn Dinner Casserole

Vegetables make an ideal base for the main dish of Fall suppers. Squash, tomatoes, eggplant, cauliflower and peppers lend themselves particularly well to this type of dish and combine well with other foods. Often the addition of a little meat will give flavor and make a satisfactory dinner.

SEPTEMBER CASSEROLE

- 5 large tomatoes or 2 cups canned tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ½ teaspoon marjoram
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1½ cups cooked corn or canned whole kernel corn
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Pepper
- 4 tablespoons grated cheese
- 2 cups hot, mashed potatoes

Peel and slice tomatoes. Place in a casserole and sprinkle with flour, sugar, onion, marjoram and parsley. Over this, place the corn and season with salt and pepper. Combine two tablespoons of the grated cheese with the hot mashed potatoes and place in a ring on top of corn layer. Sprinkle the remaining two tablespoons of cheese over the potatoes. Place casserole in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees Fahr., and bake until a golden brown, about 20 minutes. Yield. Six servings.

French Eggs

What's fancy about a fried egg, you ask. Well—these, done French style are the answer.

Break an egg on a plate and then slide it into a pan of oil, heated very hot, as for deep fat frying. Roll the egg with a wooden spoon as it cooks, to keep its shape, but be careful not to break the yolk. Fry until the egg is a golden brown.

Remove the egg from the oil with a perforated spatula, drain off all surplus fat and season with salt. Serve with rice and garnish with fried parsley. Tomato sauce is good with these eggs, too.

For a change in potatoes, try grating them instead of slicing or dicing them, then add bits of cut up bacon. Press down into a shallow cake and fry first on one side, then the other.

Scallops cooked in white wine, and lightly sauteed mushrooms, gently flavored with a small onion make a most delicious dish.

Meeting Set to Explain Problems Of Changing Present Voting System

Acting Mayor Harold Diggon stated yesterday he was planning to hold a meeting of the legislative committee on Friday at which the question of multiple polling stations would be discussed.

He said representatives of the Non-Partisan League and the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, who favor district polling stations, would be invited to the meeting. He stated that city officials would be called in to present difficulties and expense which would be involved in a change in the system of voting

SWITCH IN DAY

A switch to district polling stations might necessitate a change in voting day, from Thursday to Saturday, since the school board "doesn't take kindly" to closing the schools on Thursday, and the schools were the most logical centres in which to set up polling stations

Acting Mayor Diggon called on City Clerk Frank Hunter to verify his statement that the Municipal Act prohibits the city from dividing the voters' list according to districts and sections.

Mr. Hunter said he had been given legal advice that one complete voters' list must be supplied to each separate station in the event of separate polling stations Such a situation could mean that a voter could cast a ballot at more than one station. He said it would be unlikely that such an offender would be convicted on evidence that his name had been struck off two different lists.

VOTED DOWN

Mr Hunter said delegates to the last convention of the Municipal Officers' Association of British Columbia had voted against spreading out election systems in areas of concentrated populations.

Under the district polling system, each separate polling station would become a separate election entity, he said, adding that such a change would eliminate the progress count possible under the single polling station system.

CRITICAL OF PLAN

Mr Hunter advised that Victoria had operated with the single central polling station for 30 years and that in that time the boundaries of the city had not been extended

"People are even closer to the central station because of the improved transportation system," he said.

He was critical of the suggestion made at last week's meeting of City Council that four district stations should be established, stating four stations could not benefit all districts in the city and would result in discrimination

Mr. Hunter said it would be necessary to establish at least nine district stations.

Sydney Child, returning officer for many years in Dominion elections, is also being invited to attend the meeting of the legislative committee

According to Mr Hunter, Mr. Child favors the single polling station for Victoria city elections.

City Hears Decisions On Civil Defence

Civil defence organizations may be set up by municipalities wishing to take such a step, or those considered by Provincial authority to require such organizations, City Council was informed yesterday in a communication from Paul Pare, private secretary to Defence Minister Brooke Claxton.

Council last week joined with the board of control of the City of Windsor in asking that the Federal Government immediately institute a system of civil defence.

Mr. Pare declared that at a Dominion-Provincial conference held in Ottawa, August 23, it was decided that the three levels of Government should function in regard to civil defence as follows:

FEDERAL JOB

Federal Government — Organize Federal departments, forces and agencies for civil defence and arrange their co-ordination with provincial and local authorities; provide information to provinces; operate central training school for civil defence specialists; issue manual on organization.

Provincial Government — Name Cabinet Minister with whom Federal Government will communicate, according to requirements of province, set up a board, committee or organization to comprise representatives of provincial departments concerned, municipalities, public utilities, hospital and welfare services, national and other organizations working within the provinces, such as the armed services or R.C.M.P.; organization of municipalities for which there should be civil defence

Local Authorities—Take action to set up the organization for civil defence, making use of all available resources to minimize the effects of an attack.

Mr. Pare said a civil defence organization should be based on normal civil operations, augmented by volunteers and voluntary organizations, and supported, where necessary, by provincial and Federal agencies.

No action has been taken in regard to civil defence in Victoria by City Council. Civic leaders have stated they are awaiting direction from senior Governments before making any moves in this direction.

The Defence Minister's secretary said Victoria would soon be receiving the manual prepared by the Federal Government on civil defence organization.

Art Show has Variety Of Media, Approaches

By JOHN KYLE

A visit to the Arts Centre to see the non-jury show of pictures will be found extremely interesting. Watercolors, oils, pastels — all are there, some, as might be expected, painted boldly and with considerable dash, others painted timidly and with fearful restraint. There is no sculpture, and there are no paintings of subjects from the subconscious mind.

Many of the watercolor painters fully realize that their productions should look like watercolors. That is, they should have the liquid transparency of the medium. Painters like Mrs. M. C. Thompson, F. W. Hawkins, C. de T. Cunningham, Owen Goward, A. Bauch and J. S. Jones are all in that class. They do not all compose their pictures carefully enough, nor do they appreciate the fact that the most successful dashing technique is built on sound structural composition.

MORE VARIETY

The oil paintings have more variety than the watercolors. Some stick to nature too closely and do not fully understand that "Art is Nature passed through the mind of Man." There is a wide range between the stylized nature and rich coloring of Pat Cowley Brown and the dainty workmanship of Mrs. A. Carson; or between the fluent brushwork of Miss H. Glyde and the careful yet free work of W. J. Heybroek

In the main one cannot but be impressed with the fact that draughtsmanship must be the foundation of the picture, no matter what has to be transposed on the structure. Take a look, for instance, at "Johnson Street Bridge" by Pat Cowley Brown.

ACCURATE DRAWING

Flowers are represented in both watercolors and oils and pastels. There is considerable diversity, from the dainty lace-like drawings of Mrs. Esme Davis to the strong rose panel by Mrs. Florence Hawkins.

No matter how impressionistic the floral flowers have to be painted, no matter how spontaneous they have to appear when finished, they should first be drawn accurately

T. T. Carpenter, Edith Austin, Mrs. N. Baile, Mrs. J. A. Bland and Mrs. Isobel Hobbs all show very commendable work.

Portraits are few and range from a beautiful small-sized watercolor by Mrs. M. Smyly to a life-sized oil by H. B. Kempster.

The animal world is represented by portraits of man's friend, the dog, and the best of these are by Cyril Green.

A visit to the exhibition will amply repay one for the trouble

Benefits May Be Gained If B.C. Wins Point

NELSON, B.C., Sept. 20 (CP).—If British Columbia wins its points at the coming Dominion-Provincial conference on finances, it is possible the Provincial Government may be able to extend some of the benefits gained to municipalities, it was reported tonight.

This hope was held out for the Union of B.C. Municipalities by Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. Macdonald when he spoke at the banquet tendered delegates by the Association of Kootenay Municipalities.

"Prevention is better than cure," said Granny, "and where will you find the man to kiss a pimply face?"

Stella, for the sake of peace, plunged her hands in the grass and rubbed them over her face until her cheeks were rosy.

They followed the stream right up to the walls of Cockington Church, where it swerved aside and disappeared into the woods beyond.

"If you want to see the treasure the doctor saved for me, honey, it's hid in the church tower," said Granny Bogan.

"The church tower!" Stella exclaimed.

"My neighbors at the almshouses do not mind their own business," said Granny. "I keep nothing that could get me into trouble. I see from the shape of your pretty mouth, my honey, that you know how to keep it shut."

"Thank you for trusting me, Ma'am," said Stella soberly. Yet she wondered why she should be admitted to Granny Bogan's confidence in this way. As they walked up the path to the church door, the old woman enlightened her.

"When I die, love, I've neither chick nor child to whom to leave my treasures," she said. "For years now I've been looking into the face of every young girl I meet, trying to find one with wisdom and power to see further than most. You are the one, my love. You shall have the two books and the other thing also, and my blessing with them. Now, don't look scared, child. I was a black witch once but I put that evil from me, and now I'm a white witch and can do you no harm. Ask your friend the doctor. He'll tell you."

Stella and Granny Bogan climbed the tower stairs. Halfway up Granny stopped and opened a low door, and inside was a bare room like a cell lighted by one small window. There was a fireplace with its chimney in the thickness of the tower wall. There was a table in the room, and a three-legged stool.

"Someone must have lived here!" cried Stella.

"No one comes here now but Granny and the holy hermit."

"What holy hermit Ma'am?" asked Stella.

"Him they calls the Abbe," said Granny. "I came here once and saw him sitting in the window seat reading. Other days I've seen him crossing the park, coming this way."

Granny Bogan was standing by the fireplace, and putting her arm up the chimney. Stella was not at all surprised. Every farmhouse in Devon had loose stones in the chimney, with a cupboard inside where the smuggled brandy was kept.

Granny kept two books up the chimney, and something rolled up in a piece of linen. These she laid on the table, and unfolding the linen tenderly, revealed what Stella thought at first was a very large nobbly parsnip. Then she took a hasty step backwards, for upon closer inspection it looked like a dead baby.

"Nothing to be afraid of child," laughed Granny. "It's naught but a mandrake."

But at this Stella took yet another step backwards, for she knew all about mandrake. It grows in Germany, and its root has a human shape and it cries aloud when men dig it from the earth. If considerately treated, washed in wine, wrapped in silk, laid in a casket, bathed every Friday, and clothed in a little white smock every new moon, it acts like a familiar spirit, foretells the future, and gives counsel.

West opened the club king. Dummy's ace was played, and declarer then decided, correctly, to establish his own heart suit. He cashed the ace and king, then led the heart jack. Since West was not accommodating enough to cover with the queen, declarer, looking for the greatest safety, ruffed the trick in dummy, quite willing for East to overruff if he could.

East shrewdly concluded (without hesitation) that over-ruffing dummy's spade eight would simply make matters easier for the enemy, so he meekly discarded a diamond. Thereupon South returned to his own diamond king and ruffed away West's heart queen with dummy's ten of trumps. This time, East discarded a club. Declarer now cashed the spade ace, but since he had to get back to his own hand to draw trumps, he soon found himself in trouble. He ruffed a club and cashed the spade king, but this left him with only two trumps, the J-9, against East's Q-5, and there was no way to keep East from making his low trump as well as the queen. If South led a trump, East would win and return a club; and if South led a red card, East would ruff with his low trump.

To repeat, South's plan of play was all right up to but not including his second heart ruff with the trump ten. If he had ruffed that trick with the trump ace, then led the trump ten and overtaken it with the jack, he could have continued with trumps, knocked out East's queen, and still maintained perfect control.

But because these first weeks are extra-busy for you, too . . . here's a tip — a meal to satisfy the biggest appetite — and it takes just minutes to prepare! It's delicious KRAFT DINNER. M-mmm! It's a real main dish. In every package of Kraft Dinner is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. And in the same package, cheddar cheese, already grated, to sprinkle in for rich cheese flavour. For just a few pennies there are ample servings for four!

Oops! . . . Don't Throw Away That Vegetable Water! It's full of needed nourishments . . . and you can make the most delicious nourishing soup easily and instantly by adding BOVRIL. Yes, the beefy flavour and goodness of Bovril, added to hot vegetable or potato water, makes marvelous soup . . . and it takes just a few minutes to make. It's simple, too, to make a big bowl of Bovril gravy by adding flour, extra hot water and Bovril after you've cooked your meat. A luscious way to make meat taste like more—and so very economical! There's no doubt about it—in these days of high meat prices, Bovril is wonderfully kind to your budget . . . it gives you more meatiness with your meals for so little cost! Buy Bovril at your favourite grocery or butcher store next time you're shopping.

"It's Time For Another Meal!" is often a happier discovery for your family than for you, the busy cook. But here's a meal-getting tip to make everyone happy. I've made many a delicious, nutritious meal in minutes with CANNED SALMON as the Star. For a gala salad or a hot casserole dish, there's truly nothing like it. Because Canned Salmon combines so wonderfully with many home dishes, it can give exciting variety to your menus — easily and economically. Yes, if you're interested in cutting food costs, you'll find there's no waste when you use Canned Salmon. All cooked and ready to eat — it's all food — nutritious and completely appetizing!

Don't You Find your young daughter always feels proud when she's helping prepare for guests? Here's a dish she can make all by herself. It's one of those delicious JELL-O desserts. Simply make up a shallow pan of Strawberry Jell-O. When firm, break into bits with a fork and mix with whipped cream. Pile in glasses lined with lady fingers. Of course, any one of Jell-O's seven sparkling "locked-in" flavours may be used — and enjoyed. I like to keep several packages of Jell-O Jelly Powders on hand for everyday and company dinners. Jell-O is a year 'round favourite.

"Want To Wash Or Dry?" . . . Everyone wants to wash the dishes when they see the brand new, grand new C-I-L SPONGE. It makes dish-washing a pleasure! You see, the C-I-L cellulose Sponge is soft as velvet when it's wet—kind to your hands and your finest china. Its square shape makes it easy to clean the inside bottoms of glasses, pots 'n' pans. It floats! . . . no fumbling around in the bottom of the dish-pan. It's sanitary—can be cleaned in a jiffy under the tap or sterilized in boiling water. And after you've finished the dishes, squeeze your C-I-L Sponge dry and use it to clean tables and sink. You'll find C-I-L Sponges in five convenient sizes at hardware, department, drug, variety and grocery stores . . . be sure to look for the C-I-L label — it's your assurance of quality.

I Bought The Most Beautiful Brass Ash-Trays yesterday and they look so wonderful in my living room that next week I'll buy a couple of brass candlesticks. I'm definitely "wild" on this new trend to brassware in home decoration! It adds such glowing beauty to any decorating scheme — contemporary or period. Next time you're shopping, look for the brassware display in your favourite store. And, remember—when you're buying brassware for your home —be sure to buy BRASSO, too! It will keep your brassware handsome for a lifetime . . . and it's so very easy to use—for it's the polish made for brass!

Add Zest And Excitement To Your Meals all year 'round with HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS! Now is the time to buy the "New Pack"—for every year at this time, at Leamington and Wallaceburg, Ontario, thousands of pickers gather the rosy harvest of tomatoes grown specially for Heinz. Then this harvest is transformed by the famous Heinz chefs into four family "favourites"— Heinz Tomato Juice — Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup — Heinz Ketchup and Heinz Chili Sauce. Tickles your appetite just to read those names, doesn't it? Stock up now on Heinz Tomato Products—then you'll have a rich supply of the "pick of the crop" the year 'round!

After Autumn Housecleaning Is Done, accidents can happen to your furniture, drapes and rugs . . . butter dropped or perhaps chewing gum. But don't worry! Use ENERGINE CLEANING FLUID. It will help keep your home spic 'n' span so inexpensively! You can easily get rid of ugly grease spots on your rugs and upholstery with Energine. Energine removes fresh paint, tar and chewing gum, too! And, though it's so effective, it's absolutely safe! . . . contains no acids nor caustics! What's more Energine works wonders cleaning tubs, basins, tiling and refrigerators . . . stubborn stains vanish and porcelain surfaces shine! You'll find it's a household "must". Take my advice and put Energine on your shopping list today — at drug and department stores for as little as 28c.

Don't Get Caught Unprepared by the miseries of a cold this Fall! Buy ANAHIST now — and keep it handy! Taken at first sign of sniffles or sneezes, this new antihistamine discovery for colds can stop cold symptoms in a single day! And you can enjoy Anahist's prompt, effective relief for only about 3c per tablet! So, do take my advice and be prepared! Get the Super-Economy Family-Size bottle of 36 Anahist tablets at your druggist's today! Remember, all antihistamines are not alike. They vary greatly in performance. Anahist is the antihistamine formula recommended for family use because of its success in actual clinical tests.

Are You Letting a lack of knowledge about feminine hygiene cast a shadow over your marriage? Wise wives who want a completely satisfactory method of feminine hygiene use ZONITORS. Zonitors are effective, greaseless, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal, yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors — and write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — for a free booklet giving frank facts on feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

Betty Hutton to Play Lead In Life of Blossom Seeley

—HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD—

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept 20 (INS).—Betty Hutton, who flits from Hollywood to Chicago these days, flitted into Sam Briskin's office with a script of Blossom Seeley's life George Burns—you've heard of him. George of Burns and Allen—had written the story and sold it to M G M

Then, Sam read the script and agreed with Betty it was meant for her so he bought it from M.G M. Betty will sing "Dark Town Strutters' Ball" which Blossom introduced, and all those wonderful numbers which made her popular.

CHANCE TO EMOTE

"A Life of Her Own," Lana Turner's "drammer," did not give Ray Milland a particularly bright chance to shine—from the heavy emoting standpoint. But all this will be remedied when he returns in November to M G M. to star in "People in Love," for Eddie Knopf.

"People in Love" (a better title should be found) sounds as if it is the strongest meat since Ray ran off with the Academy Award for "Lost Week-End." He'll play a professor whose personality completely changes after he loses his wife and child in a motor accident.

Kirk Douglas is at Altaal, the ranch where Clark Gable and Sylvia spent their honeymoon. He is not there for any romantic purposes He is learning to ride for his Western role at Warners,' and believe me, that takes a bit of doing for a lad who is a stranger to horses, horses, horses.

Here's a little bit of information I picked up. Kirk has been offered "Detective Story," by Willie Wyler, and has been reading the script. I happen to know that he is also wanted by Cecil B de Mille for "The Greatest Show on Earth," the circus spectacle.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

IN THE DARK ROOM

Mother Cat went ahead of the others as she led them up the back stairs of the castle of the Marquis of Carabas. Uncle Wiggily was next, then came Mr. Turfbog, and Onree Poodell with his chains and bell.

The chains rattled and the bell clanged.

"You must be more quiet," warned Mother Cat, coming to a stop halfway up the back stairs. "If you make too much noise, the Marquis will hear you before I can put you in the dark room."

"We wouldn't want that to happen," said Uncle Wiggily. "Onree, can't you put that chain in your pocket, so it won't make so much noise? Please put it in your pocket."

"Oui! Oui! M'sieu Wiggailee, zat I do," said the French poodle dog in his funny way He stuffed the chain into his pocket and Mother Cat started off again. But soon the bell began to clang.

"You will have to muffle that bell, M'sieu Poodell," mewed Mrs. Cat. "It makes so much noise the Marquis will hear it "

"Oui! Oui! I put se bell in my pocket," said the French dog.

This he did and for a time there was quiet as Mother Cat led the way up the back stairs.

"Don't you want my flashlight to see your way, Mrs. Cat?" asked Bosun, who was just ahead of Buster, Double Dip and Doodle "It is very dark where you are now, near the head of the back stairs."

"You forget, Bosun, that we cats can see in the dark?"

"Oh, yes, I forgot about that," chuckled the jolly old seadog.

So they all kept on climbing the stairs. Suddenly there was a tinkling sound.

"What was that?" Uncle Wiggily turned around to look. He saw Bosun's flashlight gleaming. "Who made that noise?"

"Excuse me, I did," answered Double Dip.

"What was it?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"It—it was my spoon," explained the fat little pig. "I brought a spoon with me in case I found any ice cream in the castle. Then I could eat it fast. I was my spoon. I dropped it, but I found it again and I'm thankful for that."

"Put your spoon in your pocket, Double Dip," ordered Mr. Longears.

"Yes, sir," mumbled Double Dip.

Once more the procession went on up the back stairs Mother Cat was almost at the top, ready to show Uncle Wiggily and his friends into the dark room when, suddenly, loud music began to play.

"Is that the Marquis at his piano?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"No, that was my box. I dropped it," said Doodle. "I'm very sorry My box slipped."

"Well, pick it up quickly and shut off the music," said Bosun.

"Yes, sir," answered Doodle. "I'll put my box in my pocket."

"Do you think, Mother Cat, that the Marquis heard the music of Doodle's box?" asked Mr. Longears

"No, Uncle Wiggily," mewed Mrs Cat. "I can still hear the Marquis, down in his library, playing the piano. He has heard nothing But please don't make any more noises. He will soon be coming up to bed. Now here is the dark room, next to his bedroom. Go in. I will shut the door."

"Golly! It sure is dark," said Double Dip "I can't see to eat my ice cream, if there is any."

"I have my flashlight," said Bosun. "But I don't believe there is any ice cream." And there wasn't. They all went into the dark room Mother Cat closed the door and went away

Something happened after that I'll tell you about it tomorrow if the white marshmallow candies don't go swimming in the tomato juice and jump out looking like a strawberry shortcake.

Heavy Selling of Stocks in A.T. and T. Carries Down Rest of New York Market

By The Associated Press

Heavy selling in American Telephone stock slapped down the price and carried the rest of the New York market lower yesterday.

Roughly $6,000,000 worth of A. T. & T. stock changed hands at losses running to nearly $3 a share. The closing price was 2149.25 a share, down $2.92.

Large-scale liquidation was touched off by news of a proposed financing program of breath-taking scope.

Traders immediately raised the question—without answering it—whether A. T. & T. would be able to continue paying its famous $6 annual dividend. The dividend has been paid for some 30 years, through the most devastating war in history, a spectacular market crash, and a crushing depression.

MONTREAL LOWER

Securities were irregularly lower in moderately active trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb Market.

The market generally moved in a narrow price path, with losses slightly outnumbering gains. Most of the changes were marked in the early hour.

Trading was slow to start, but picked up after the first hour. Volume showed industrials with a turnover of 81,300 shares traded and mines 150,300 shares.

A moderate group of papers were mixed in the selected group.

A few base metals were also mixed. Senior oils held mainly steady. A few utilities were unchanged to a shade easier.

Industrials were lower with a few small gains showing, including beverages, steels and carriers.

Mines and Western oils moved hesitantly in moderate trading.

RISE IN TORONTO

Selective demand boosted leading gold and Western oil stocks higher in an otherwise narrow session on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Volume was about 1,635,000 shares.

Traders turned their attention on senior and junior gold producers. Leading seniors showed fractional advances and gains ranged up to ten cents in juniors. Several low-priced issues traded heavily for some moderate advances.

Buying was irregular in Western oils but key issues climbed while the majority of smaller stocks showed small losses. Gains ranged up to about 15 cents in the leaders.

Papers, refining oils, constructions and textiles showed majorities of gains in industrials. Utilities, steels, foods and liquors were mixed.

Base metals moved narrowly on slightly lower levels. The group has been under pressure of profit-taking in recent sessions.

VANCOUVER MIXED

Trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange was mixed.

Calmont led the oils, trading 20,000 to hit a high of 1.30, and eased off to 1.25 up 07. Princess was up 06 to 63 while Central Leduc and Atlantic showed slight losses.

Base metals showed small gains.

New Refinery in Ontario To Process Alberta Oil

PETROLIA, Ont., Sept. 20 (CP).—Plans to build an $12,000,000 refinery at Froomfield, 16 miles northwest of here on the St. Clair River, were announced today by W. Harold Rea, president of Canadian Oil Companies.

The plant will start processing Alberta crude oil in April, 1952, he said in a speech to employees of the company refinery here.

An estimated 5,000,000 barrels will be moved yearly to Froomfield from Superior, Wis., eastern end of the inter-provincial pipe line, in which Canadian Oil has a $900,000 interest.

OUTPUT

The refinery's annual output will be 105,000,000 gallons of gasoline, plus Diesel, stove, furnace and heavy fuel oils and other products, Mr. Rea said. The plant could easily be switched to production of aviation gasoline.

In a national emergency, it could supply butylene and ethene-ethylene, synthetic rubber components, to the federally-owned Polymer Corporation plant at Sarnia, two miles away.

"Western Ontario's acute shortage of natural gas for domestic and factory use may be eased by the sale of refinery gases to local industries," Mr. Rea said.

TANK FARM

Froomfield now is the site of Canadian Oil's marine terminal and tank farm. It is linked with the smaller refinery here by a four-inch pipeline. The local refinery will switch from United States to Alberta oil on completion of the 1,150-mile Prairie pipe line, scheduled for next Spring.

Mr. Rea estimated that use of Alberta oil in the Petrolia and Froomfield operations will save an estimated $17,500,000 a year in United States funds.

The Froomfield refinery will be on a 200-acre site, with another 200 held in reserve for possible expansion. Storage tanks with a capacity of 81,500,000 gallons will be erected to augment the existing 12,775,000-gallon Froomfield capacity.

Government To Expand Rubber Plant

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—A $6,600,000 expansion program today was authorized for the Government's synthetic rubber plant at Sarnia, Ont.

Trade Minister Howe said in a statement that increased demand—brought on by booming crude rubber prices and expanding defence preparedness—has been so great that the $50,000,000 Polymer Corporation now has become incapable of supplying all of it.

Since it is "anticipated that this demand will continue for an extended period," Mr. Howe said it has been decided to expand the plant's 130,000,000-pound annual rubber-producing capacity by between 20 and 25 per cent.

MEETS NEED

The increased capacity will help meet the call for more materials by Canada's plastic industries and by Canadian, United States and West European buyers for tires, inner tubes, wire, cables, footwear and mechanical goods.

The cost of expanding the Sarnia Government venture, started in 1942 when Canada's crude rubber sources were shut off, will be financed by the company's current earnings and depreciation reserves.

Three plants will be expanded: those producing butyl which goes into production of synthetic rubber, styrene, a chemical used for the production of plastic materials; and butadiene, another material which goes into synthetic rubber manufacture.

Work will start as soon as engineering and design plans are completed, Mr. Howe said.

Declining Apple Demand Hits Industry in Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—A declining world demand for apples once again is taking a whack at the Canadian industry.

Though the crop this year is smaller than a year ago — about 15,200,000 bushels, compared with 16,200,000—growers are experiencing as much difficulty as they did in 1946 in finding foreign buyers.

Already the trek to the Government's doorstep to seek assistance has begun. British Columbia growers made their bid last week. Maritime growers likely will dispatch a delegation to this capital tomorrow.

NOT LIKELY

In the light of Canada's greater needs of cash for defence, it is likely that the Government will meet these requests for financial assistance with an iron fist. Last year it paid out more than $3,500,000 to East and West Coast industries in subsidies. It is likely to be a lot less this year.

It thus appears almost certain that the Government will turn down the request by the British Columbia growers last week. These growers, with a production of 7,300,000 bushels compared with 7,800,000 last year, requested a $1.20-a-box subsidy to help them meet United States competition in foreign markets.

A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, and another official of that marketing organization, told Government officials that such a subsidy is being granted by the United States to its growers. American growers now could quote a much lower price in foreign markets than Canadians.

Coal Output Hits Decline

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—Production of coal during August totaled 1,051,150 tons, a decline of 16 per cent from the 1,275,136 tons for the corresponding month last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Cumulative total for the first eight months of this year was 11,751,759 tons, about 2 per cent above the 11,536,501 tons produced in the similar period of 1949.

Crop Shipping Worries Rails

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP).—Railway officials said today that if rains cause any further delay in threshing, the railways may not be able to keep up with the required movement of the Prairie grain crop.

However, if the weather remains normal, officials said they expect no difficulty in transporting the grain to Lakehead terminals.

The Board of Grain Commissioners reported the number of carloads of new grain passing through Winnipeg as the lowest in six years. From August 1 to September 18, 5,540 carloads of grain have been inspected in Winnipeg. This compares to 25,861 last year.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP). — The Canadian dollar was unchanged at a discount of 5¼ per cent in terms of United States funds in closing foreign exchange dealings today. The pound sterling was unchanged at 22.80¼.

Ontario Seeks Alberta Gas

EDMONTON, Sept. 20 (CP).—Possibility of Alberta oil and natural gas being one answer to Ontario's electric power shortage was a factor that prompted the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission to invest $65,000,000 this year in steam-power generating plants at Toronto and Windsor.

This was revealed here today by R. L. Hearn of Toronto, general manager and chief engineer of the Ontario Hydro-Electric.

"The plants, costing a total of $65,000,000, will be equipped to burn coal, natural gas or oil," Mr. Hearn said in an interview.

"If we can get natural gas or oil at an economical price we will burn them. They could help to solve our problems."

Steelmakers Pass Capacity

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP).—The Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today that steelmakers are still operating on a "hit and miss" basis to fill Government and civilian orders.

"Defence orders requiring steel are growing in volume and tonnage," the trade weekly said. "As they grow, regular customers making civilian goods are finding their quotas slashed and deliveries extended. Some fourth quarter quotas on sheets and plates have already been sliced 30 to 40 per cent below third-quarter quotas."

Steelmaking operations this week were placed at 100.5 per cent of rated capacity. The Iron Age said: "Barring unforeseen trouble the industry is expected to keep operating at close to capacity in an effort to fill military orders without slashing orders of other customers any more than necessary."

U.S. Fir Mills Aim at Record

PORTLAND, Sept. 20 (AP).—Douglas Fir mills in the U.S. Pacific Northwest appear certain to reach a production record of 10,500,000,000 board feet by the end of this year, an industry spokesman said today.

Despite a freight car shortage which has retarded production, R. V. Simpson, executive vice-president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, said the output at the end of eight months was 6,863,000,000 board feet.

If the lumber can be shipped, the fir mills in Oregon and Washington will be able to meet all domestic, military and defence demands, he said.

Average weekly production for August, Simpson said, was 241,839,000 board feet, 147.4 per cent of the 1945-49 average. Orders averaged 222,384,000 feet and shipments 206,958,000.

The industry's unfilled order file totaled 1,060,231,000 board feet at the end of August, he said. Gross stocks totaled 785,833,000 board feet.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP).—Grain prices generally moved in a narrow range in dull trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with rye showing the best tone.

DAGGA ADDICTS

JOHANNESBURG (CP). — South Africa's "Dead End Kids" are becoming dagga addicts. Rand teenagers are smoking dagga—similar to marijuana—in specially-made cigarettes and hold dagga sessions which they call "getting blue."

London Market More Buoyant

LONDON, Sept. 20 (Reuters). — Prices were buoyant on the London Stock Exchange today.

Markets were stimulated by the removal of the prospect of an early general election following the Government victory on the question of steel nationalization.

Advancing prices in most sections produced several features and gave a good start to the new trading period. British Government stocks were widely 1/16 to 3/16 up on small support, while moderate investment demand created useful improvements in leading industrials.

Oils moved ahead under the leadership of Anglo-Iranians and closed firm.

The market in Japanese bonds was erratic. Final prices showed little alteration on the day after being sharply lower on Parliamentary statement doubting the possibility of an early resumption of the debt service. German and other European loans were firmer.

Kaffir Developers opened higher and made steady progress to close around best. Coppers and diamonds were in some demand.

CALGARY CATTLE

CALGARY, Sept. 20 (CP).—Cattle trade was active at the Calgary stockyards today although receipts were light for this time of the year. There was a continued steady demand for stockers and feeders and there was a very strong demand for export stock calves.

BOND MARKET

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (CP). — Attention on the Bond Market today was placed mainly on the new Ontario issues and the Bell stock financing. The market in general stood up well. High grade issues were firm. C.P.R.'s were off a shade in an otherwise unchanged corporation list.

Prairies Face Lower Costs For Gasoline

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP).—Imperial Oil's gasoline prices in most areas of Manitoba and Saskatchewan will be lower this Fall, John R. White, company vice-president, said today.

The price change would follow a reduction in the cost of transporting crude oil as a result of the inter-provincial pipe line.

In a prepared talk to the Winnipeg Rotary Club, he said another reduction, general throughout the Prairies, will probably come with the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes next Spring.

Winnipeg prices next year would be "between four and five cents a gallon lower than if crude oil movement to the East had not taken place." He predicted a "nearly equal" reduction in gasoline prices at Regina by next Summer.

NO SAVING

Refineries in Alberta, already linked by pipeline to the oil fields, will not have any additional saving to pass along to consumers this Fall, Mr. White said.

Movement of Western oil to Sarnia in the Spring would not bring any reduction in Ontario prices. The Western crude producer must take a sharp reduction in price to enable his oil to compete in the Ontario market.

Canadian House Building Rises Slightly This Year

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP).—Quebec led the rest of the country in house building during the first six months of this year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. The new starts in Quebec rose to 14,980 units from 11,528 in the first six months of the year of 1949.

For Canada as a whole, the number of dwelling units on which construction was started in the first half of the year was 42,140, compared with 40,190 in the corresponding period of 1949. Completions totalled 35,968 against 39,720 and the carryover of uncompleted units was 63,634 against 57,727.

Figures for Newfoundland, which joined Confederation last year, were included in the 1950 but not in the 1949 totals.

ONTARIO SLIPS

In the six-month period, the number of starts in Ontario dropped to 13,221 from 14,788. In Alberta there were 4,491 starts against 4,077; British Columbia, 3,815 against 4,431; Manitoba, 1,538 against 2,096; Saskatchewan, 1,201 against 1,337; Nova Scotia, 1,036 against 1,086, New Brunswick, 1,275 against 880, and Prince Edward Island, 208 against 87. Newfoundland's total was 389.

Completions in Ontario were 12,240 compared with 14,050; Quebec, 12,020 against 10,756, Alberta, 2,390 against 4,389; British Columbia, 2,350 against 4,905; Manitoba, 1,461 against 2,194, Saskatchewan, 768 against 1,140, Nova Scotia, 1,173 against 1,648, New Brunswick, 873 against 883, and Prince Edward Island 214 against 112. Completions in Newfoundland totalled 372.

BACKLOG

The backlog of uncompleted dwellings at the end of June by provinces was as follows, with the comparative figures for the first six months of 1949 in brackets:

Ontario, 23,230 (31,740), Quebec, 17,198 (14,619), British Columbia, 7,566 (7,254); Alberta, 5,407 (4,975); Manitoba, 2,837 (2,511), Saskatchewan, 1,800 (2,040); Nova Scotia, 2,201 (2,198); New Brunswick, 1,573 (1,304); Prince Edward Island, 309 (158); Newfoundland, 1,377 (unavailable).

Donor Saves Canvassers Stiff Climb

Community Chest canvassers were saved a steep climb by a Victoria woman's thoughtfulness.

The woman, whose house perches atop a steep hill, dropped into Chest Headquarters in Prince Robert House to make a $5 donation.

She said she wanted to "save the canvasser the bother of climbing that awful hill" on October 2, the night of the dramatic "Lights On" fund drive.

Canvass leaders were pleased by the woman's thoughtfulness. They said, however, they wouldn't mind climbing every hill in Victoria to make up their $181,000 objective.

ST. MARY'S GUILD

St. Mary's Guild held its last quarterly meeting for the year at the home of Mrs. Tom Jackson, Pulford Harbour, with Mrs. W. J. Stewart in the chair.

The financial statements showed a balance of $216. It was decided to send $24 towards the taxes on the Vicarage, Garden, and $50 towards the Mission Fund.

Arrangements were made to start preparing for next year's annual sale of work. Materials and wool will be purchased and distributed at once by Mrs. F. L. Jackson, and sewing and knitting will continue through the Winter months.

The hostesses were Mrs. F. L. Jackson and Mrs. Leslie Mollet.

Question of Use of "Excessive Force" in Defence Seen Factor in Possible Manslaughter Verdict

Whether Joseph Ouillette, 22-year-old Manitoba man sentenced to hang for the murder of Mah Sing, his Okanagan market gardener employer, used "excessive force" in combatting a knife attack by the Chinese emerged yesterday as a factor in a possible manslaughter verdict.

Court reserved judgment as the two-day appeal closed yesterday afternoon, following submissions by Crown Counsel W. C. Moresby, K.C., and R. W. McIntyre.

Earlier, appellant's counsel, Vancouver barrister Eric Brown, noted that, in his charge to the Assize jury which convicted Ouillette, Mr. Justice Macfarlane had described self-defense without excessive force as grounds for acquittal.

NOT ONLY VERDICT

But, Mr. Brown continued, the trial judge in his remarks on self-defence, had failed to mention that if the force employed was excessive, it could be considered by the jury, along with other circumstances, as grounds for a verdict of manslaughter.

Thus the jury might have thought that only a murder verdict was open to them, if they found that the accused man had used excessive force in self-defence, Mr. Brown argued.

According to Ouillette's testimony in lower court, the fight began when the Chinese returned from a trip to Vernon and found the accused, who had been drinking Mah's whisky, asleep on Mah's bed.

SEIZED SHOTGUN

Following an interchange of verbal insults, Ouillette said Mah threw a cup at him. Ouillette retaliated with a clock and then, when Mah came at him with a knife, retreated to a corner of the room, where he seized a shotgun belonging to Mah.

He struck the Chinese with the gun, knocking him to the floor and breaking the gun in two.

Ouillette said he then flitted the two sections of the gun together, cocked it and told Mah to "act sensible."

Mah replied: "You dirty black Indian, I'll kill you for that," Ouillette testified, and "kept coming with the knife."

The shooting followed.

HAD TWO CLUBS

After Ouillette had broken the gun and before he put it together, he had had two "clubs" with which to resist Mah's knife attack, Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran observed yesterday.

Mr. Brown contended also that in his charge to the jury, the trial judge should have related his remarks on intoxication to the defence of provocation, since drunkenness increased the likelihood of provocation on the part of the accused man.

Shamrock Supporters Travel by Air to Cheer Club

Several hundred Victorians journeyed to Vancouver yesterday to give encouragement to Victoria Shamrocks in their Inter-City Lacrosse League play-off contest against New Westminster Adanacs. Members of Shamrock Sideliners' Club, who made trip in chartered North Star aircraft, are pictured above just before taking off from Pat Bay airport. Other club members traveled on regularly scheduled flights or took advantage of special steamship rates to watch their favorites in action.

Shamrock Goalie Bill Andrews had just stopped a close-in shot from stick of Adanacs' Bobby Bremner (No. 12) when this picture was taken during second period of play-off battle at Vancouver Forum. Duff McCaghey comes to Andrews' aid and scoops ball back into crease. Showing behind Bremner's shoulder is Coach Arnie Ferguson who scored first tally for Irish seconds before first quarter ended. Adanacs had 6-0 lead at that time and went on to chalk up decisive 13-5 triumph over demoralized Victoria.

Brilliant pitching by Eddie Ford, their sensational rookie lefthander, enabled New York Yankees to hold their slender half-game lead in the blazing American League pennant race yesterday.

Ford pitched the world champions to a three-hit, 8-1, victory over the White Sox in Chicago for his eighth triumph without a loss.

Detroit Tigers gained undisputed possession of second place by edging Philadelphia Athletics, 6-5, while Boston tumbled into third place, two games back. The Red Sox dropped a double-header to the Indians in Cleveland, 6-3 and 7-1.

EASY VICTORY

Ford cruised to an easy victory as his mates supported his classy pitching with an 11-hit assault and built up a 6-0 lead in the first four innings.

Bobby Brown paced the Yank offensive with three hits. Gerry Coleman knocked in three runs on a triple and a single and Cliff Mapes accounted for two with his 13th homer and a single.

Detroit came from behind to clip the Athletics. The Mackmen piled up a 5-1 advantage in five innings at the expense of Dizzy Trout but the Tigers clawed back with three in the sixth and won out with two tallies in the eighth. Two hits, an error and a wild pitch accounted for the payoff runs. Ted Gray and Hal White held the A's to two hits in the last four frames with White picking up the victory.

Bob Lemon and Early Wynn foiled the Red Sox. After four unsuccessful attempts, Lemon finally notched his 21st victory as he limited the Sox to seven hits in the opener. Wynn permitted only five safeties in gaining his 17th victory in the nightcap.

Luke Easter and Larry Doby led Cleveland's nine-hit attack against Chuck Stobbs and two relief hurlers in the first game. Easter belted a two-run homer, his 27th, and Doby drove in a pair of runs on two singles.

Joe Gordon was the big gun in the second contest as he batted in three runs, two with a home run. Walt Dropo clouted his 34th circuit smash in the seventh inning for the lone Red Sox run.

KONSTANTY DUMPS CUBS

In the National League, Philadelphia's great relief hurler, Jim Konstanty, gained his 16th victory of the season as the Phillies dumped Chicago Cubs, 9-6, and moved closer to their first pennant since 1915.

Mike Goliat's three-run homer in the eighth—his second of the game—accounted for the winning tallies. Konstanty made his 68th appearance of the season and held the Cubs to two hits over the final two and two-thirds innings.

Brooklyn Dodgers, with Gil Hodges crashing a grand-slam homer in the bottom half of the first inning—his 29th—trounced Pittsburgh, 7-2, before the smallest Brooklyn crowd since 1944—1,011 fans.

Both the Pirates' runs came on Ralph Kiner's 46th home run in the first inning.

GIANTS TURNED BACK

Cincinnati turned back New York Giants twice, 4-1 and 2-0. Ewell Blackwell four-hitted the Giants in the opener and has now allowed only 14 hits in his last 44 innings pitched.

Jim Hearn, who allowed the Reds only three hits in the second game, was tagged for his fourth loss in 12 decisions.

Cloyd Boyer of the St. Louis Cardinals tossed a four-hit, 1-0 shutout over Boston and dropped the Braves into a second-place tie with Brooklyn.

Duncan Sons Play Opener On Own Field

Duncan Native Sons, who upset Victoria United in an exhibition game at Duncan last week, will make their first start of the season in the Victoria and District Football Association this Sunday on their own field.

Heaneys, who played a scoreless tie with Victoria West, in their first game last week, will provide the opposition. Arrangements are under way for Mayor J. C. Wragg of Duncan to make the official kick-off at 2.30 p.m.

Two games will be played in Victoria, Saturday. Oak Bay will meet Esquimalt at Windsor Park, and Britannias will oppose Alcos at Lower Beacon Hill. Both games will start at 2.30.

Reports Assert Milligan To Join United Line-Up

Wallace Milligan, elusive soccer star sought by Victoria United for the past two seasons, may be in United's line-up for its opening game against North Shore at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday if Vancouver reports are true.

Information from the Mainland last night stated that Milligan has signed a Coast Soccer League form with United. Commenting on the report, United Manager Tommy Restell said he has been negotiating for the services of the former Scot but has not yet received his signed form.

An excellent playmaker and deadly marksman, Milligan has seen Coast League service with New Westminster Royals and Nanaimo. He would provide United with a first-class field general and give the team much-needed punch.

Although unable to give a starting line-up last night, Restell stated that Milligan will start at centre-forward if his form is received before Saturday. Signed players include Bill McAllister, John Pickburn, Murray Speller, Denny McGee and Ab Travis from last season's line-up, Joe Robbins and Tim Walker of Heaneys; Bill Hope of Victoria West, Frank Grealy, Oak Bay, and Jock Dunbar, a new arrival from Scotland. Robbins and Hope are former members of United.

North Shore will display a revamped line-up sprinkled with newcomers Elmer and Harry Buchanan, better-known for their lacrosse activities with Burrards, form a new left-wing combination while Doug Cairns replaces veteran Frank Ashdown in goal. Brian Philley, sterling centre-forward lured from St. Andrews; George Smith, a recruit from the Vancouver and District League, and Mike McManus round out the forward line. Returnees Bill Smith, Alex Reid and Pete Proctor form a potent half line while veterans Harry Anderson and Jimmy Spencer comprise a formidable fullback unit. Spares are Dave Kemp, Harold Finch, George Beckett and Ashdown.

HEANEY'S TO PRACTISE

Heaney's senior and junior soccer teams will practise at Royal Athletic Park tonight at 7.45. All players are requested to attend.

Rocks Fail to Recover From First Quarter Attack As Adanacs Run Roughshod Over Irish Crew 13-5

New Westminster Adanacs dynamited Victoria Shamrocks with a terrific opening offensive in the third game of their Inter-City Lacrosse League final play-off at Vancouver Forum last night. The Rocks never recovered from the onslaught as they went down to a 13-5 defeat before the Yellowjackets.

With their triumph, Adanacs forged into a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven series. Fourth game is set for Memorial Arena, Friday night, with the fifth contest billed for New Westminster's Queen's Park Arena on Monday.

SHAMROCKS OUTPLAYED

Grabbing the initiative from the opening whistle, the A's literally ran roughshod over a demoralized and outplayed Irish crew for five goals on their first five shots in less than six minutes and quenched early attempts to rally with bone-jarring stickwork that completely disrupted Shamrock passing plays.

Fleet-footed Johnny Douglas personally took charge of the crushing attack. He whipped Jackie Northup's pass behind Goalie Bill Andrews after 18 seconds of play, scored on a free shot at 2.41, then scampered around Darrell Popham and went in alone to notch his third tally at the three-and-a-half-minute mark.

BREAKAWAY HALTED

A three-man Adanac breakaway was stopped 26 seconds later, but Northrup gathered in a loose ball and slammed home a shot that Andrews never saw. Northrup, driving through on a brilliant individual sortie, made it 5-0 at 5.41, and that was the game. There was little sustained excitement thereafter.

It was six minutes before the Rocks found an opportunity to fire a shot in the direction of Gordie Pogue in the New Westminster nets and then Fred Ranson was wide of the mark. Pogue finally made his first save at 6.30, picking off Art Green's drive with his shoulder while Douglas was sitting out a two-minute penalty.

Rolf Moum put the A's in front at 6-0 before Coach Arnie Ferguson cracked Pogue's armor in the dying seconds of the disastrous period to leave the Rocks trailing 6-1 at the quarter.

Art Green garnered the second Irish goal in the second quarter, while the Adanacs were short-handed, but big Reo Jerome rattled in two unassisted tallies and Jake Proctor picked off one of many intercepted Victoria passes and went in unmolested to give the winners a 9-2 half-time advantage.

11-2 DEFICIT

Never giving up in the battle to settle down into their usual pattern of play, the Shamrocks finally gained control for the final ten minutes of the third quarter. However, by that time goals by Northrup and Jerome had buried the Irish under an 11-2 deficit and continued sparkling netminding by Pogue gave them no chance to get back into contention.

Tommy Druce whipped a 25-foot free shot past Pogue, Art Green scored from the edge of the crease after Ferguson had made a great opening and Darrell Popham brought the score to 11-5 at the three-quarter pole as he scored on passes from Druce and Ferguson.

CHECKS TAKE TOLL

Adanacs' bruising checks that had upset the Rocks throughout the encounter again took their toll in the final period and, waiting for the breaks, the A's notched two unreplied markers.

Approximately 500 Victorians were numbered among the estimated 4,100 fans that witnessed the game, well-handled by Referees Bill Wilkes and Gordy Polka.

Tonight, at 7, 300 tickets for Friday's game will go on sale at the Memorial Arena box office. The ducats will be limited to four per customer.

Commercial Managers Meet

Promise City Sport Fans Better Brand of Hockey

Patrons of Victoria's Commercial Hockey League will witness an improved brand of puck-chasing this Winter, in the unanimous opinion of managers of the six teams operating in the loop, who attended a league meeting Tuesday night.

Although not yet prepared to divulge probable line-ups, all mentors expected stronger clubs than they had last season, when the Commercial League triple-headers became one of the city's most popular sport entertainments.

FORM NUCLEUS

Some players have transferred to other teams, but the managers apparently have formed a nucleus of their better players of last year and all will present a few new performers. One club will be operating under a different sponsor, Hotelmen becoming Gladwell Meteors, while the remaining five clubs—Navy, B.G.P., Civil Service, Fishermen's Co-Op and Douglas Tire will retain their titles.

At Tuesday's session, it was announced that, through an agreement with the Arena Commission, season tickets would be available for the Mercantile League season. The action was taken after a large number of fans had requested such an arrangement.

SHELVE DECISION

A final decision as to whether the league would affiliate itself with the B.C. Hockey Association was shelved until the next meeting, probably towards the end of the month. No delegate will be sent to the provincial meeting in Kelowna this week-end.

Dissatisfaction over some of the B.C. body's policies of last year was voiced. Points of contention included handling of team registrations and allocation of more than $600 turned over for the assistance of minor hockey. None of the money, which was acquired through a levy on gate receipts at local games, was known to have found its way to Victoria's Minor Hockey Association.

TO AID MINORS

Stressing the league's desire to aid youthful hockey players in the city, President Jim Lackie stated yesterday that, regardless of its status with the provincial body, the loop "does intend to do something for minor hockey in Victoria."

Plans Revived In Fan Bid For Franchise

SALEM, Ore., Sept. 20 (AP)—Plans by baseball fans here to buy the Salem club franchise in the Western International League were revived again today.

Donald A. Young, attorney for a group here, said negotiations were again under way with owners of the baseball franchise and Waters Field. Young said George Norgan, owner of both the Salem W.I.L. club and the Pacific Coast League Portland club, had put a $50,000 tag on the Senators.

This price is substantially lower than earlier figures and Young said the chances of raising the $12,500 down payment looked good. The balance would be paid over five years, Young said.

Young said it was planned to sell 2,000 shares of stock at $25 a share. Stock option circulators were going the rounds today, the attorney reported.

JUVENILE SOCCER

A practice of the Army, Navy and Air Force Vets juvenile Division III soccer team will be held Sunday morning at 10.30 on the Central Junior High School grounds. All of last season's players, former members of the K.G.P. team and others interested are asked to attend.

The Sportlight

By GRANTLAND RICE

As usual, there will probably be around three or four football teams in the upper branches, or the big-time set, which will finish unbeaten this new season.

Who will these teams be? Or what teams have an outside shot at this pleasant target? For no team has better than an outside shot, if you recall the close calls Notre Dame had in 1948 and 1949.

Here are some of the possibilities: Notre Dame, Army, Cornell, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Stanford, Michigan, Fordham, Duke, California and Virginia.

Here are 11 teams that have the class and the schedule advantages that might carry at least four or five of them into the happy country of the unwhipped.

Notre Dame's roughest stand should be against Southern California on December 2. From here, none of the other opponents look too formidable.

Army's two main barriers will be Michigan and Stanford, I can't see anyone else on the Cadets' schedule beating them.

Cornell must take care of Princeton on October 28, although Dartmouth and Pennsylvania can be annoying.

I would suggest that Tennessee's main obstacles will be Duke, North Carolina and Kentucky. But in each case Bob Neyland's outfit has the call.

Texas and Missouri are Oklahoma's two rough spots. Stanford has only a bare chance with Army, California, Southern California and Washington waving battle-axes.

Michigan's three main opponents should be Army, Illinois and Ohio State.

Fordham has an even level including Yale, San Francisco, Boston College and Syracuse, without any unsurmountable peaks in the road.

Duke's toughest spot will be Tennessee. After that Maryland and North Carolina. Also Pittsburgh.

California has Southern California and Stanford to wrap up.

Virginia's main enemies will be Tulane and North Carolina, her two final games. If Don Faurot's Missouri squad can handle S.M.U. and Oklahoma, this team is also eligible for a seat in spotless town. Missouri can do it.

At least, this list should supply the few who will wind up in December without being beaten.

The College-Big League Battle

The battle between the colleges and the big leagues over athletes still chasing the sheepskin is not as simple as it seems.

We'll say some college has a student who is both a good baseball player and a good football player. He is a junior. Or a freshman or a sophomore.

At this point, some big league club wants to grab him. Said club offers him a bonus of $10,000 or $20,000.

The ideal move to make would be for the student to get his degree and take a gamble on the bonus a year or so later. The big league team offering the student big money to quit college and turn pro might also restrain itself for a year, or so.

But this will never happen until there is an arrangement between the big leagues and the colleges. To the average student in college $1,000 is a chunk of money and $5,000 is beyond dreaming. So when the leagues offer to put up $10,000 or $20,000, or more, you can be pretty sure that the college athlete isn't going to pass it up.

A buck in the hand is worth two bucks next month. And 20,000 bucks in the hand closes out all arguments.

I don't believe the colleges can ask the big leagues to overlook their athletes and I don't believe the colleges can ask some student to play for the fun of it against $10,000 or $20,000. It is different with high-school students. But a fellow in college is supposed to be almost grown up and to know a few of the answers.

The only way this situation can be handled is to have an agreement between the colleges and organized baseball in which no athlete can be signed to any contract until he has been graduated. Any number of colleges have lost promising stars—including fine looking football players.

I'm not sure if the big leagues want any such arrangement. Naturally the colleges would snap it up. Good all-around athletes are too scarce today to have them shanghaied at a price that even the colleges can't meet. And it might be recalled that now and then colleges can take care of any financial competition—up to $5,000 or $10,000. None of them can meet the real bonus tag.

Bill Ezinicki's Absence Benefits Bright Rookie

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Sept. 20 (CP)—Maybe it's a break for Rookie George Armstrong, this absence of thumping Bill Ezinicki from the hockey training camp of Toronto Maple Leafs.

The shift of lines brought about by Ezinicki's failure to report when the camp opened Monday shuffled Armstrong, 20-year-old husky from Skead in Ontario's Sudbury district, into a right-wing slot beside Ted Kennedy, Toronto's captain and ace centre.

Armstrong, a sensation in the Allan Cup play-off with Toronto Marlboros last season, has fitted right in with Kennedy and left-winger Sid Smith.

Another result of the Ezinicki affair is that Howie Meeker has moved from the Kennedy line to Ezinicki's regular spot with Centre Cal Gardner and Leftwinger Harry Watson and this threesome looks hot.

In the Ezinicki case, the next move now seems up to Bill himself.

He sent a telegram today to Hap Day, assistant general manager of the Leafs, reporting: "Not feeling up to standard. Want to stay home."

FIRST EXPLANATION

That was the first explanation for his absence sent directly to the Leafs, who had been trying to locate him for three weeks.

Ezinicki had told The Canadian Press in Winnipeg Tuesday that he was "mentally and physically tired," and 15 to 20 pounds underweight. He wanted to regain his strength before tackling hockey.

Conny Smythe, Leafs managing director, said today the thing for Ezinicki to do is to have an examination by the Leafs doctors. He thought the player "must be quite ill to be acting the way he is."

Smythe spiked reports that Ezinicki has been on the trading block: "He hasn't been offered to anyone. He hasn't been discussed in a deal or trade of any kind."

Now 26, Ezinicki probably is the hardest-checking forward in the National Hockey League. Despite his 166 pounds, he can deal out crushing bodychecks to all comers. His rugged play contributed to a high penalty total. In the last two seasons he served more time in penalties than any other player in the league. The 145 minutes he spent there in the 1948-49 season set a record for penalties for forwards.

Seattle Pro Drops Post For Tourneys

SEATTLE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, Seattle's best-known professional golfer, is hitting the "gold trail" on a full-time basis.

Inglewood Country Club officials have announced that he was quitting as the club's pro to follow the tournament trail. They said he would continue to compete, however, as a club representative. He came to Inglewood in 1948 with a national reputation.

The club officials said Oliver plans to follow the tournaments for the next five years.

Charley Mortimer, who has been acting as pro at the club, will step into Oliver's position at Inglewood under a five-year contract.

British Women Near Sweep In Golf Meet

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP)—The British Women's Curtis Cup team today scored an 8-2 victory over the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union team, making a clean sweep of three doubles matches and winning five of the seven singles tests.

Ada Mackenzie of Toronto and Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal were the only Canadian winners.

Jean Bisgood of Bournemouth, with a two-under-par 37 for the first nine, paced the Britons in the singles. She defeated Mrs. N. J. Carlson of Toronto 4 and 3 and finished one over par for the 15 holes.

Miss Bisgood teamed with Philomena Garvey of Dublin in the doubles to score a 4-and-3 win over Miss Mackenzie and Anne Sharpe of Welland, Ont.

DOUBLES

Philomena Garvey, Dublin, and Jean Bisgood, Bournemouth, defeated Ada Mackenzie, Toronto, and Anne Sharpe, Welland, Ont., 4 and 3.

Jean Bisgood, Britain, defeated Mrs. B. J. Carlson, Toronto, 4 and 3.

Elizabeth Price, Britain, defeated Anne Sharpe, Welland, Ont., 5 and 4.

Drop Forecast In U.K. Hockey

LONDON, Sept. 20 (CP)—Under the headline "Is Ice Hockey on the Way Out?" London newspapers forecasts today that there may be fewer hockey jobs for Canadians in Britain this season.

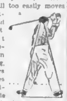

The Evening Standard says in a sports-page story that three of the big British rinks which sponsored hockey—Harringay, Wembley and Empress Hall—are going to stage Christmas shows for at least six weeks this Winter.

Wembley, which sponsored two teams, will have one this season.

Golf—Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

When the weight is mainly on the straight, but not locked, right leg at the top of the backswing, the left knee, as pictured, has moved in toward the right knee, but both knees should remain on the same horizontal line to prevent a left-side sag which all too easily moves over into a right-sag at impact and spoils the shot. When the left knee moves in toward the right in the back-swing, the left heel rises to keep both knees on the same horizontal line. This helps maintain the head fixed and immovable in the address position. Our pictured player has swung a little too far over in the backswing for the average golfer to imitate. Most golfers carrying the backswing this far are too late with the clubhead at impact, unless they start their downswing very, very slowly. Of course all good players are slow at the top. This is one of the essentials of a good swing, but like all other parts of a golf swing, it is best not to overdo it since rhythm may be lost.

Dizzy Dean, lanky pitcher with Houston, Texas, was recalled to the St. Louis Cardinals 19 years ago today. The gabby right-hander, now broadcasting home games of the New York Yankees, was sold to Chicago Cubs in 1938 for $185,000 cash and two players.

Ulysses Curtis Replaces Jones In Point Race

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP)—One newcomer to Canadian football has nudged another out of first place in the Big Four Union scoring lists.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show that Ulysses Curtis of Toronto Argonauts has displaced Edgar (Special Delivery) Jones of Hamilton Tiger-Cats as individual leader.

Curtis, negro halfback from Florida A. & M., got two touchdowns Saturday to bring his total to six majors for 30 points, three points more than Jones, formerly with the professional Cleveland Browns.

A Canadian, Bill Larochelle of Ottawa Rough Riders, ranks third. Larochelle, former Olympic runner, got two touchdowns Saturday to bring his season's figure to five for 25 points.

Bill Gregus of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, one of the new crop of United States imports, shares fourth on 20 points with Virgil Wagner of Montreal Alouettes, an American who has been in the Big Four since 1946.

Golfer Sinks Ace at Gorge

Archie Gillies joined a select group at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday when he made a hole-in-one on the 180-yard 16th hole. His shot was witnessed by Ken Tush, Albert Robertson and Hugh McIntyre, other members of his foursome.

Not so fortunate was Mrs. W. G. Brown, who aced her tee shot on the 145-yard 14th hole but who was playing alone at the time. Members of a foursome on a nearby fairway saw the shot hit the green and roll toward the cup but paid no more attention until their attention was drawn by the excited divoter.

LONDON TAILORED

Wins Big Game On Empty Stomach

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Eddie Ford, the phenomenal mound man of New York Yankees, won a big one from Chicago White Sox, 6-1, today, virtually on an empty stomach.

Ford thought today's finale against the Pale Hose started an hour later than it did. As a result, he was yanked away from his hotel breakfast table after stowing away only a light portion of fruits.

The rest of the Yanks had left for Comiskey Park long before Ford, who had permission to show up late but not as late as he did.

Statistics Show Eskimos Leading in Passing Gains

REGINA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos boast the biggest passing gains of any team in the Western Interprovincial Football League while Winnipeg Blue Bombers hold a slim edge over Saskatchewan Roughriders in the average advance per game in ground offensives.

This is shown in team statistics released today by Bob Gillies, league secretary.

In seven games the Esks have gained 1,645 yards via passing for an average of 235 yards per game. Calgary Stampeders are second in line with an average of 103.6 yards.

In yards gained rushing, Winnipeg has compiled 934 yards in six games for an average of 156. Riders are second with an average of 155 yards.

Riders have the best first-downs record. They moved the yard-sticks 86 times in six games for an average of 14.3 times a game. Eskimos are second with a 14.1 average.

MOST PENALIZED

Bombers are the most penalized team with 4.5 times a game for a loss yardage of 220 yards, averaging 36.7 yards a game. Riders are second with a 34.2 average.

Roughriders lead in fumbles with 17 while recovering eight. They also recovered 11 opposition fumbles.

In yardage gained on runbacks of punts, Ruffies in six games have gained 724 yards for an average of 120.7. Calgary is second with 100.1 13.1 yards.

Riders' average runback comes to yards.

In the individual game departments, Eskimos hold the season's record for the most yards gained from scrimmage in one game. They made 583 yards September 2 against Calgary. They also hold the mark for the most yards gained passing in one game, with 503 of their total gain of 583 yards September 2 coming via aerial advances.

Winnipeg gained 365 yards along the ground in beating Calgary 7-4 August 28 for the best rushing total in one game.

Riders gained 277 yards in runbacks while downing Calgary 16-11 September 6. Their 22 first downs Saturday against Winnipeg is also tops for the season.

SPOKANE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Infielder Frank Matoh, who batted .290 for Spokane in the Western International League last season, has been sold to Twin Falls of the Class C Pioneer League.

He played with Victoria in 1949.

SELECT QUALITY BUYS

Next year's prices on used cars can be anything at all high, low, jack or game. We do not know it is very likely you do not know either.

One thing is certain, the prices will be governed by the purchasing power of our dollars next year "GOODNESS KNOWS" what that will be.

Having no crystal ball to get the answer from and having to make room for more trade-ins on PONTIACS we must keep them moving out, to give buyers who know our values.

OAK BAY—DUFFERIN AND THOMPSON AREA
BEAUTY—COMFORT—SOLIDNESS

Are the factors which this gracious and spacious home was built on from the beautiful gardens to the big high and bright basement. Over a curving walk through a green lawn and up a wide set of concrete steps, you gain entry to a wide impressive through L-shaped hall and proceed into a living-room, 30 ft. x 16 ft. approx. size that opens into a full guest-size dining-room that will take the maximum of sizeable furniture, and there on into a long kitchen that isn't too wide, meaning few steps and grouping the preparation of meals. Then using the "L" part of the hall we cross the home reaching linen closets, bathroom, den with patio and 3 commodious bedrooms. Also there is a utility room and a small room in the basement. This home and it is a home in a modern manner and a low bungalow that is conservative, having about 1,850 sq. ft. of 7-year-built solid construction, is insulated, wired for range, all floors oak and automatic heat. Not least in importance is a lane that puts the garage at the rear of the home and a fenced rear garden. This home may be shown to genuine home seekers by appointment at the listed price at . $14,900

FAIRFIELD—NEAR PARK
ALL HARDWOOD FLOORS

Not a new home but one of mature age with 6 rooms and a through hall, all of which are spacious. Throughout the home reflects the fact that people who regard cleanliness as near to godliness live in it. It has a full basement, piped furnace, is well built and extremely warm. Has a neat garden and there is a lane at rear and the price is $6250

Phils Announce Series Orders Being Accepted

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP).—Philadelphia Phillies have announced they will honor applications for World Series tickets postmarked after midnight E.D.T. Wednesday, September 20.

President Bob Carpenter said the Phils will sell tickets to single games and that the ducats won't be handled in a three-or-four-game block as other clubs have done in the past.

"This way," Carpenter said, "We'll be giving about 92,000 fans an opportunity to see the World Series instead of 23,000." There are 32,500 seats at Shibe Park and no standing room will be sold.

Carpenter said applications must be accompanied by certified cheques or money orders with the name and address of the applicant written in the upper left hand corner of the ticket request. Applications should be sent to the Philadelphia National League Club: Box 6925, Philadelphia 32, Pa.

Box seats will be sold for $8.75 each, reserved seats for $6.50. Bleacher seat tickets of $1 each will be sold at the ball park.

If the Phils win the National League pennant and there is no play-off necessary in the American League, the series will open at Shibe Park October 4.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"PITCH DARK"

Pitch is a sticky black substance obtained by boiling down tar. Its black is a thick, solid, lustrous black. And from the days when coating rope or canvas, or caulking the seams of ships with this substance were procedures more familiar to the ordinary person, pitch has remained in our vocabulary as an allusion to blackness or darkness. There was a time when this was so common that the term was used as a verb, as in Joseph Addison's reference to "The welkin pitched with sullen cloud." The welkin here was blackened by the cloud.

As to the modern allusion, "It's pitch dark out here," to signify the unrelieved darkness of nighttime, this seems to have appeared in print for the first time in less than a century ago in Bayard Taylor's poem, "A Story for a Child," in the line, "Over the roof, in the pitch-black night."

However, "pitch dark" is a phrase that saw considerable usage in the 17th century and was actually listed as a proverbial expression in John Ray's volume of "English Proverbs" published in 1670. It was brain child of the time when "to pitch" signified "to blacken," as Addison employed this a generation or two after John Bunyan wrote his "Pilgrim's Progress," in which he authored the actual phrase, "Dark as pitch."

Podovinikoff Grateful To Ottawa

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP).—Canada's Government has done its part, the rest is up to the Doukhobors, a Sons of Freedom leader said tonight in a statement.

The statement was released by Joe Podovinikoff, secretary to the Sons of Freedom group at Hilliers on Vancouver Island and chief lieutenant to Michael (The Archangel) Verigin, leader of that island sect.

It commented on the announcement today from Ottawa that 395 Doukhobors, most of them convicted of parading in the nude, would be released from British Columbia jails that have held them for four months.

EXPRESS GRATITUDE

The statement: "Michael Verigin and the elders of the Hilliers original Community of Christ wish to express our deepest and sincerest gratitude to both the Federal and Provincial Governments for this move.

"The Government now has fulfilled its Christian obligations, it is now up to the Doukhobors to fulfill their spiritual obligations . . . by absolutely abandoning all acts of disturbances and violations of the public peace."

Doctor States Joe Louis Hard as Rock

POMPTON LAKES, N.J., Sept. 20 (AP).—The stethoscope was applied to Joe Louis today and the former heavyweight champion was termed in his "best fighting shape since the war."

The official medical examination, conducted by Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission, was the next to last before the Brown Bomber meets Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium next Wednesday night for the heavyweight championship.

"Joe has a slight head cold, but it's nothing to get excited about," said Nardiello, "no fever, no redness of the throat. Should be gone in 24 hours."

"Joe has a cold before every big fight," said Mannie Seamon, the Bomber's long-time trainer.

Nardiello, who has been tapping the ribs of Louis and other fighters for 19 years, said the 36-year-old "unretired" champion was in his best physical and mental shape since 1942.

"He weighs 218, just about two pounds over what he hopes to hit when he goes into the ring," the medico said. "His waist, which was 35 inches, is down to 33. He's hard as a rock."

PLEA FOR IMMIGRATION

There are about 110,000 vacant jobs registered in Australia.

Taylor Buys Famed Stables As Stud Farm

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP).—The famed Parkwood Stables of Col. R. S. McLaughlin have been sold to E. P. Taylor, millionaire Toronto industrialist.

Taylor, owner of one of the finest racing stables in Canada, said today the farm will be operated as a "national stud" to improve Canadian-bred horses.

"We feel that we have been breeding increasingly-better stock in Canada in recent years and we hope to make Parkwood such an institution that the best American racing stables will send their mares to our stallions," he said. "We trust that the day will come when Canadian-bred horses will be the equal of any thoroughbreds in the world."

Purchase price of the 470-acre estate near Oshawa was not disclosed. Taylor said it will be operated by a syndicate which will buy high-grade stallions and make them available for breeding to horsemen with suitable mares.

Parkwood includes a half-mile training track and accommodation for 64 horses.

League Set For Play-Off In Flag Race

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP). — The American League decided today how it would play off a two or a three-way tie in the close pennant race.

This was decided by coin-tossing at the office of League President Will Harridge:

If Boston ties New York, they will play it off at Boston.

If Boston ties Detroit, they will play it off at Detroit.

If New York ties Detroit, they will play it off at New York.

In event of a three-way tie, Boston would play New York at New York. Detroit drew a bye and would play the winner of the Boston-New York game at the winner's park.

The play-off date would be Monday, October 2, if a single game is needed to decide the title, and October 2 and 3 if two games are needed.

The world series is scheduled to start Wednesday, October 4.

Rugby Practice Set

A group practice of English Rugby teams will be held under the direction of the Victoria Rugby Union at Central Junior High School tonight at 6.15. Coaches and players from Oak Bay Wanderers, Canadian Scottish, J.B.A.A., Victoria College and Normal School are requested to attend. Any other players or potential referees will be welcome.

Port Alberni Tennis Club Elects Officers for Year

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 20.—Officers for the 1950-51 season were elected at the annual meeting of the Port Alberni Tennis Club in the club house at Recreation Park.

President is Bill Helen; vice-president, Gordon McInnis, secretary-treasurer, Bob Hunter. Executive members are: Bill Sanders, Harry Kermode, Edward Wong, Mrs. Alice Robinson, Mrs. Lorana Brookes and Miss Shirley Chipman.

The club reports a very successful season with a membership of 70, largest in the history of the organization.

During the year a "B" team was formed and entered in competition with other "B" teams in the Upper Island League, giving a good performance in games with Courtenay, Nanaimo and other cities. It is planned to offer cups for competition in "B" games in the coming year.

With a view of keeping members in touch with one another during the Winter, a team will be entered by the club in the City Bowling League.

LIFE-SAVING DEVICE

TOFINO. — Tofino residents have gone "over the top" to purchase a resuscitator for that village.

During the first week of the campaign almost $500 was donated, and the campaign wound up the second week with more than $1,000 subscribed.

Tofino is the first West Coast village to secure this valuable piece of equipment. It is expected it will be kept at the Dominion Government life saving station.

Dr. J. W. Monteith, who has been active in the campaign, will attend to the purchase of the machine.

BADMINTON CLUB

PORT ALBERNI. — Alberni District Badminton Club will hold its annual meeting with election of officers at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, in the Alberni Athletic Hall. Season's play will start at 8 p.m., Tuesday, October 8.

WRITER TO SPEAK

PORT ALBERNI.—James K. Nesbitt, feature writer for McLean's Magazine and Toronto Saturday Night, will address the first Canadian Club meeting of the season in the Port Alberni Legion Hall at 8:15 p.m. next Monday, taking as his subject, "Emily Carr."

For years Mr. Nesbitt has been a member of the British Columbia Legislative press gallery, and is known as a C.B.C. commentator from both Vancouver and Ottawa.

He is a member of the B.C. Historical Association and for several years has written weekly articles on early British Columbia in The Colonist.

Other addresses planned by the Canadian Club for the balance of the year are:

October 9—Dr. M. G. Zorkin on "Stettin, Trieste, Salonika, Vital Defence of the West."

October 30—S.K. Sandwell, on a subject to be announced.

November 20—Mrs. Helen Gordon McPherson on "As Others See Us."

TREES FOR CHILDREN

PORT ALBERNI. — Distribution of live seedling trees to primary pupils enrolled in public schools has been suggested by the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

Enclosed in a letter read at this week's meeting of the board of school trustees was a copy of a certificate which would be given to every primary child together with a live seedling tree in a kraft paper pot, to help give a basic knowledge of the value and importance of a tree, especially the trees of the forests of British Columbia.

The association asked that the names of all primary pupils be supplied so that the seedlings could be distributed the latter half of October.

The board decided to turn the matter over to the various school principals for their information.

ROOM FOR GUIDES

PORT ALBERNI. — Mrs. J. A. Bates of the local Association of Girl Guides has communicated with the board of school trustees, District 70, asking permission to use one room in the Redford School, one day and one evening a week for Guides and Brownies, as the old A.R.P. Building now being used is not suitable.

Trustee G. Gray said he felt the board should do everything in its power to foster the Guide and Scout movements and he felt that if Secretary A. Taylor were permitted to iron out any difficulties between the various parties involved, it could be arranged. The board agreed.

BUS LOADS

PORT ALBERNI.—Trustee G. Gray has reported to the board of school trustees, District 70, that on one day, Friday, September 15, school buses had carried 1,644 pupils and traveled 325 miles.

Numbers of children to be transported are increasing, the trustee reports, jumping 200 the second day of school. The Cherry Creek route has been extended to Cowley's Road, a distance of about 1½ miles, in order to pick up children in the area where a bear was seen recently.

Police had inspected the buses and found them generally in good order.

TILE BID

PORT ALBERNI. — A figure of $5,000 for grading and laying of tile at the back of the new Gill School has been submitted to the board of school trustees, District 70, by H. Rornquist, contractor.

As this figure is $3,500 in excess of the amount estimated in the by-law the matter has been turned over by the board to the new buildings and grounds committee for report.

Trustee A. McCulloch said Mr Hornquist had two efficient machines in the district at present, which could do the work much better than ordinary machine or hand labor. If they were allowed to go out of the district and the job had to wait another year it might cost $7,000. At the same time, he said, it was not legal for the board to run up a debt to be paid off by next year's board.

SCHOOL PAID FOR

PORT ALBERNI.—Gill School is paid for.

This week the board of school trustees, District 70, ordered progress certificate No. 954-12 in the amount of $4,106.84 for Port Alberni Home Builders Ltd. in connection with Gill School construction turned over to the finance committee for payment.

This is the last payment to be made on the construction of this school except for the $10,000 put up by the company and held as a deposit by the board.

Alert Hunters Shoot Cougars

LAKE COWICHAN, Sept. 20—Two cougars were bagged by two hunters within the village limits. Paul Ross shot a female early in the morning within sight of homes in the village. The animal was first treed by dogs.

Arthur Hancock shot his cougar the hard way in the afternoon. The animal took refuge in a culvert in the village. Hancock crawled in after the animal and shot it point-blank. It was a male.

Many cougars have been killed in Cowichan Lake district, but seldom so close to populated areas.

More Comfort Wearing

FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose plate discomfort. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them firmer so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store. (Advt.)

"Top Quality" Special Point At Ladysmith's Annual Fair

LADYSMITH, Sept. 20. — "Top Quality" is the special feature of Ladysmith's 30th annual Fall Fair which opened in the Agricultural Hall, Wednesday. Honors were not confined to the adult section—the judges classed the children's garden section "outstanding for quality."

Judging continued throughout the day.

Alderman and Mrs. D. D. McTavish of Victoria judged the flowers, "of lovely quality and gorgeous color."

Mrs. H. W. Nichols of Nanaimo captured nine firsts and six seconds in this division, including five firsts for dahlias.

SCHOOL SECTION

The school section displayed art work, including water colors, shell-craft and manual arts. Cedar Activity Club and the Diamond district showed fine produce. Howard Hartley displayed boxed fruits.

Clifford Williams is showing a collection of fossils, of wood and marine life, gathered chiefly from the Haslam Creek shales.

A display by the Provincial Shellfish Laboratory, Ladysmith, arranged by Dr. D. B. Quayle, illustrates the life history of the Pacific oyster.

There is a noticeable increase in exhibits in the cooking section, and a baker's dozen vied for honors in the baking powder biscuit class.

Needlework, art work and photography are drawing considerable praise.

Judges are: Fruits and vegetables, E. W. White, Victoria; Alderman and Mrs. McTavish, flowers; Mrs. Frank Reed, women's division; and Thomas Bertram, art.

The Cattle and Junior Calf Club Show will be held Thursday afternoon.

Trophy winners announced as follows:

E. W. Forward Cup for most points in flowers, and William Wilson Cup for most points in dahlias, won by Mrs. W. H. Nichols, Nanaimo.

Don Wilson, Cedar, captured the General Pearkes Bowl for most points in the show, and the Bank of Commerce Cup for most points in fruits and vegetables.

Saltair Cup for women's work was won by Miss S. L. Roberts.

Inspector Complains

Gill School Funds Spent, None Remain for Books

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 20—In a special report to board of school trustees of District 70, school Inspector Claude Campbell deplored the fact that when the Helen Street School pupils, now attending Gill, return to Alberni they will take all books back with them, leaving the new Gill School completely without books of reference or a library.

The school inspector wanted to know how this had happened and what, if anything, was being done about it.

"HEART OF SCHOOL"

"The library is the heart of the school," said the inspector, quoting the Department of Education course of study for teachers. He said in his opinion teachers were the most important equipment of any school, but they needed the tools with which to work.

Trustee Roy Riggs, chairman of the supply committee, being absent from this week's meeting, Chairman Mrs W. Hunt explained that all the money in the estimates had been used to purchase equipment and there was none left for books.

Mrs Hunt asked if, under the circumstances, where approval had been given by the department to purchase certain equipment and it was now found that it was not all necessary, whether the inspector thought the board would be allowed to cancel the unnecessary items and turn the money towards the library.

SAW NO DIFFICULTY

Inspector Campbell felt that no difficulty would be encountered in this way. He pointed out that though at times they might have a little difficulty with departmental accounts regarding certain purchases he felt that under the circumstances no difficulty would arise.

Mrs Hunt remarked that she had been to Victoria countless times in past years, and had always found the department most reasonable and considerate.

Inspector Campbell said he would write the department a letter covering this matter.

No grants are received for library books under the by-law.

Teen-Agers Benefit by New Program

For years it has been the custom for teen-agers riding on street cars to receive preferred prices on street cars and bus tickets. Likewise, theatres, realizing teen-agers did not have funds for entertainment to the same extent as adults, have also extended preferred ticket prices to this segment of the community.

Spotless Stores announces a teen-age program which enable all ten-agers to benefit on all their dry cleaning and shirt laundering requirements. Spotless have formed a Teen-Age Club for which there is no charge to join. Club Membership cards are issued to all teen-agers between the ages of 11 and 17, and Club Membership entitles every Member to have his card punched every time he brings in something for cleaning, or shirts for laundering, and after ten punches, he receives a 20% discount on all his work.

The Spotless Management feels this will not only help hard-pressed fathers and mothers budgetwise, in keeping their teen-agers neat and clean in appearance, but will be an incentive for teen-agers themselves to put more emphasis on their appearance.

Spotless also points out that teen-agers to benefit from the Teen-Age Club, must bring in their own clothing, the thought being that Spotless helps the alreay overburdened housewives by letting the teen-agers take the responsibility which should rightfully be theirs in looking after their own clothing cleaning requirements.

Present Concert At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS, Sept. 20—The concert presented Friday evening by the Cowichan District Elks Band, in the Recreation Hall, Chemainus, was a musical treat for those who attended.

Miss Grace Adams, soprano soloist, Victoria, sang several selections. Other artists were Robert Weismiller, Duncan, sousaphone soloist; Lawrence Homer, piano soloist, and Tommy Shirley, boy soprano.

N. C. Ayling conducted his own composition, the "S.P.O.E. Overture," and also arranged the selection, "Jerusalem," for the band.

The concert was sponsored by the United Church Choir, in aid of its organ fund. Master of ceremonies was P. Quelch.

Three New Schools Officially Opened By Straith in Campbell River Area

CAMPBELL RIVER, Sept. 20.—Three new schools in District 72 were formally opened yesterday by Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education.

He officiated at ceremonies held at Quadra Island Superior School, Squirrel Cove and Manson's Landing on Cortez Island.

Accompanying Mr. Straith were F. T. Fairey, deputy minister of education; H. G. Welch, M.L.A. (Comox-Alberni), and Mrs. Welch; trustees and representatives of School District 72 and school board officials from Courtenay and Nanaimo.

QUONSET TYPE

The party left Campbell River in the morning by plane to open a one-room, Quonset-type school at Squirrel Cove.

Following this, they traveled by bus to Manson's Landing to open a three-room school.

The Columbia Mission boat Rendezvous took the party to Quadra Island in the afternoon to open the largest of the three schools—a four-room, fully modern structure with a covered play area and auditorium.

The building was dedicated by Rev. Rollo Boas of Whaletown, skipper of the Rendezvous.

Mr. Straith, in his address at Quadra Island, said he hoped the people realized the value of the school board.

ONLY REWARD

"They serve with a great deal of inconvenience to themselves and their only reward is the appreciation of the children," he said.

Mr. Straith remarked that youth is the finest and most valuable asset of the province and noted with pleasure the presence of several Indian children in the school.

"It is the aim of the department to see that all children in urban and rural areas receive the best in educational facilities, regardless of race, color or creed," said the minister.

He was introduced by John W. Smith, chairman of the District 72 School Board.

CROWD SCHOOL

Four hundred persons crowded the Quadra Island School for the ceremony and afterward enjoyed a program of songs and folk-dancing by the pupils.

Highlight of the program was a song—"Welcome to Quadra"—composed by the school's principal, Hugh Herbison, and sung by the students.

Student Thor Peterson officiated at the flag-raising which concluded the dedication.

MAKE HOME IN ZEBALLOS

ZEBALLOS, Sept. 20—Formerly of Victoria, Mr and Mrs. David Morrison are now residents of Zeballos. Mr Morrison is to take charge of the Zeballos Transfer Company for his brother, J. M. Morrison.

Watt To Head Zeballos Club

ZEBALLOS, Sept. 20.—The Zeballos Community Association last week elected J. Watt president for 1950-51.

Other officers elected included: G. Campbell, vice-president; Mrs. B. Telosky, secretary; R. Embleton, treasurer; J. English, G. H. Godfrey, sports committee; Mrs. V. O'Hara, Mrs. J. Watt, Mrs. R. Hahn, Mrs. J. English, Mrs. E. Gibson, J. Kennedy and B. Lautsch, social committee.

Association members voted thanks to members of the retiring executive for their efforts during the past year.

Zeballos Man Jailed For Liquor Offence

ZEBALLOS, Sept. 20.—J. A. Pepin was sentenced here recently to six months in Oakalla for supplying liquor to Indians.

A. John, T. D. Sam and P. Sam, all Indians, were each fined $5 and costs for being intoxicated.

At the foot of our lawn, from a rock, some years ago, I bilt a dock. A colossal affair, most it would dwarf, some 50 ft. extends this wharf. The tremendous timbers took time to get, sturdy enuff to tie up a corvette. Most every evening I saunter down there, to gather some bark, to sniff some air. And always to someone I can chat, 'cause following me scampers the cat. "Sure's calm to-nite," then we nod together, "arn't we having the most glorious weather". Then as usual, I think I'll troll, so I pick up my bamboo fishing pole. Which acts on the cat like a drug, simply fascinated by the dangling red plug. Which from the line I dangle there, before I fling it thru the air. Fascinated too, when to us you've swerved, these chesterfields are smarter when they're curved. We know you'll say, "why goodness gracious, so much cheaper & so curvaceous." Way out in the water, then to reel it in, then out again, to hear it spin. "Fluffy" watches this plug, on every doose. I guess she thinks, it a flying mouse. At first I could fling it, just a few feet, but now each cast, is quite a feat. Momentum is gained, swung to & fro, & with lots of slack I let 'er go. Of course I've NEVER caught a thing, I'm more like a golfer perfecting his swing. And I really don't do it, in hopes of a fish, it's just that I like to hear the swish. And then the plop as it hits the drink, it's a wooden plug, so doesn't sink. Then I reel it back in a jerky fashion, this tempting the cat, to go a-splashin'. Yet I've often thot, as away it doae go, there MIGHT be some day, a careless coho. Who will take a chance & open wide, so knocking my rhythm, all cock-eyed. 'Cause I'll be forced to play with him, & try to end his 4-year swim. And this will finish my playful swishin', I'll be caught in the net, and forced to go FISHIN'

The British Columbia Power Commission in the first five years of its operation, ending April 30, 1950, has gone far toward accomplishing the purpose of its creation under the terms of the Electric Power Act: "An Act to provide for improving the availability and supply of electrical power" to the people.

The Commission has acquired and amalgamated 25 operating electric utility services, including distribution systems, with immense savings to consumers resulting.

The Commission has invested nearly $40,000,000 in generating plant, transmission and distribution services to supply power to industries and its more than 41,000 commercial and domestic customers.

The Commission is engaged in the extension of rural electrification, bringing economical irrigation and the other numerous labour and time-saving advantages of power to the farmer.

The Commission is developing the enormous hydro power potential of the province, with such projects as the 112,000 horsepower John Hart Development, serving Vancouver Island; the Whatshan project which will help develop the North Okanagan, Kamloops and other communities of the southern-central interior; the Clowhom River hydro development, which will supply Sechelt and adjacent coastal areas.

The Commission continues to survey hydro resources, with a view to taking care of the future needs of the people.

The Commission operates on a financially independent basis, paying all interest on capital, providing from its revenues for maintenance and renewal reserves, sinking fund and contingencies. Its profits go into the stabilization reserve fund, for the improvement of service and protection of the interests of its customers.

The Commission's widespread operations, and the assurance of adequate supplies of power, are directly responsible for the expansion of industry. Such projects as the huge pulp industries on Vancouver Island, at Cedar and Alberni, and, soon to be built, at Duncan Bay, utilise Commission power from the John Hart Development.

Power is essential to the fullest development of basic industries, of mills, mines, factories and farms.

A limited number of the British Columbia Power Commission's annual report for the year ending April 30, 1950, is available from the Secretary, Box No. 550, Victoria, B.C.

H.M.C.S. Magnificent Crew Wear Their War Medals

—Central Press Canadian.

World War medals were worn for the first time on board H.M.C.S. Magnificent at a divine service held on board the carrier during her recent Atlantic crossing from Halifax to Londonderry. Here Commodore Kenneth F. Adams, commanding officer of the Magnificent and senior Canadian naval officer afloat, chats with five of the ship's veteran chief petty officers following divisions. Left to right are: C.P.O. Donald Batten, Dartmouth, N.S.; C.P.O. John Keating, Halifax; Commodore Adams; C.P.O. Ira Johnson, Saint John, N.B.; C.P.O. Walter Nettleton, Hamilton, and C.P.O. J. R. Vallancourt, Ottawa and Halifax.

Proof Sea Elephants Snore Musically

—Central Press Canadian.

F. Alton Everest, associate director of the U.S. Moody Institute of Science, is shown as he recorded the sounds of a bull sea elephant for use in a science film. The large nose of the mammoth seal acts as a sound resonator giving amusical tone to the "clung-clung-clung," which passes as sea elephant language. The institute reports that beautiful deep-throated snoring sounds of sleeping elephants were also recorded.

Municipalities Seeking Power to Tax Bus Firms

NELSON, Sept. 20 (CP).—The Union of British Columbia Municipalities will ask the Provincial Government for power to tax bus companies.

By a two-vote margin, 64-62, the annual convention today endorsed Burnaby's proposal that bus firms be taxed the same as street railway companies on the basis of fares collected.

In another major decision the convention rejected the Metropolitan Park planning committee proposal for permissive legislation under which groups of municipalities might unite to obtain and operate parks. Deputy Municipal Affairs Minister B. C. Bracewell explained that already he has the power to do this by agreement.

PLAN DEFEATED

Kootenay proposals that the field of candidature for civic office be broadened by permitting men to serve who have mortgages on their homes was defeated. The Interior group claimed present regulations bar men who are buying homes or who mortgage their property.

Provincial Government will be asked for legislation to compel fire insurance companies to contribute a fixed percentage of premiums collected to the municipality in which they are collected to help meet the cost of fire protection. Legislation will be sought also to tax drive-in theatres; and to collect licence fees from chartered accountants.

Revision of the whole scale of trades licences was proposed by Burnaby whose delegates said the present scale was out of date. U.B.C.M. is to prepare recommendations for next year's convention.

The Union will ask the Federal Government to extend benefits of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act to British Columbia to assist in controlling surface water runoff, drainage and irrigation.

Latin Skipper With Musical Name Remains Silent on Future of Nootka

—MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS—

The secrecy that shrouds the purchase of the freighter Nootka by Peruvian interests is a friendly one.

The ship's captain and 16 crew members arrived in the city Tuesday to ready the 2,006-ton vessel for her voyage to the Latin American country—but the captain and the freighter's new owner suggested that "international complications" might arise if they chatted to reporters and photographers.

An official of the V.M.D. was asked the name of the Peruvian captain.

Said the official:

"I could play it on a piano, but couldn't pronounce or spell it for you to save my life."

Set to music, the name goes like this:

Captain Jacinto Herrera.

SAILING 31 YEARS

The captain with the "musical" name is a short, friendly Latin who has served with the Peruvian merchant marine for 33 years, is married and comes from the port city of Callao, Peru.

He has visited Canada before—22 years ago.

"I came up to Canada on a sailing ship," said Captain Herrera, who speaks English well.

FLOWN HERE

His trip here this time was done under more pleasant traveling circumstances.

He and his crewmen were flown here from Lima.

The new owner—Enrique Echecopar—and a Seattle lumberman-interpreter were in Victoria Tuesday but returned to the Puget Sound city yesterday. They will be in Victoria again before the Nootka sails from this port in "three or four days."

Capt. Herrera likes the look of the 21-year-old ex-coastal freighter.

"After all, it's Canadian-built," he said.

AWAITS OWNER

He was reluctant to discuss the sale of the vessel and declined to be photographed "until the owner returns here in a few days."

Questioned about the deal, he maintained a firm stand but one that carried with it the famed courtesy and friendliness of the Latin Americans.

"You're trying to pick me out by little bits," he joked.

Capt. Herrera noted that Peru has "about 40 ships" in its merchant navy and hazarded the guess that the Nootka will ply the South American coast on its new duties.

TO COME ASHORE

Shore leave for the Nootka's new crew members will be a bit of a tough job for some of them.

Not all the friendly Peruvians can speak English.

Capt. Herrera went ashore Tuesday for a look at Victoria and hopes to have time for another look around before leaving here.

"International complications" may be trotted out in a day or so—the captain hinted that the crew and himself may be available for photographs and "a story" about the Nootka's sale in a couple of days.

A couple of the crew members are hoping that the picture "deal" comes off on schedule.

BY FRIDAY

They figure to have their hair slicked down and big, Peruvian smiles on their faces at "quarry hora" (4 p.m.) Friday.

Tempting aromas wafted out of the galley as the cook settled down for the evening meal.

"Buenas tardes, senores," the two crewmen chorused as they waved good-bye.

How about it, captain?

These crewmen are going to be awfully disappointed if the picture deal doesn't come off.

SHIP MOVEMENTS

Two freighters arrived at Ogden Point last night to load and unload cargo.

The British-registry Empire Ness will take on 843,000 feet of lumber for South Africa.

The Furness Line SS. Brazilian Prince will unload general cargo here from the United Kingdom.

At Cowichan Bay, the SS. English Prince is loading 800,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom.

The SS Hartinterve, which arrived here Tuesday, is taking on 350,000 feet of lumber for the United States Atlantic Seaboard.

SKIPPER CHARGED

The U.S. Coast Guard yesterday charged Capt. Leonard C. Smith, of Tampa, Fla., with negligence following a 12-day marine investigation board into the ramming of the navy hospital ship Benevolence August 23.

Capt. Smith, was skipper of the freighter Mary Luckenbach, which struck the navy ship in San Francisco harbor.

The Coast Guard alleged that the Mary Luckenbach was proceeding "at excessive speed through the fog" when it struck the merry ship.

WARNING TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised by the Department of Transport that two new day beacons have been established in Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, as follows:

(1) On a drying rock (al. north 48 degrees, 50 min., 53 sec.; long. west 123 degrees, 27 min., 54 sec.

This beacon carries a white spherical-shaped topmark and is 18 feet above high water.

(2) On a drying rock Lat. N 48 degrees, 51 min., 14 sec.; Long. W. 123 degrees, 28 min., 02 sec.

This beacon carries a white conical-shaped topmark and is 11 feet above high water.

The above positions are referred to Canadian Hydrographic Service chart No. 3450.

STATUE ARRIVES

A copy of the original statue of "Joan of Arc at the Stake" arrived in Montreal yesterday aboard the 10,000-ton C.P. cargo liner Beaverlake.

It has been donated to the University of Montreal by famed French sculptor Maxime Del Sarte.

The original statue stands in the square of Rouen, France, where the heroine was executed.

The statue stands nine feet, nine inches tall and weighs about six tons. It was made of stone from Chauvigny in the south of France.

The donation from Del Sarte to the university was accepted by His Excellency Emile Vaillancourt, Canadian Ambassador to Peru.

The statue will be erected in the Court of Honor at the university, facing the entrance of the administration wing.

Cafe Plan Nets Solarium $66

The 20th anniversary celebration of the Panama Cafe, 1407 Government Street, has netted the Queen Alexandra Solarium the sum of $66.50.

The money was raised yesterday by its cafe by a price reduction in the cost of meals to customers.

The cafe cut the cost of meals 20 per cent and asked customers to donate the saving to the Solarium. The cafe matched the donations.

The charitable scheme was devised by the cafe owner, Chan Dun, and his five sons.

Saw Liquor Under Table Police Sergeant Testifies

A city police sergeant in court yesterday produced as evidence liquor which he said was taken from on and under a table at the C. A. G. Gardens, 850 Fisgard Street, on the early morning of August 29.

During the trial of Lee Chun, charged with allowing persons to have liquor in his restaurant, Sgt. Ray Maitland told the court he was making a routine check of the establishment in company with Constable William Andrews when he became suspicious of the contents of glasses at several tables. He cautioned the patrons, he said.

RETURNED LATER

Returning a short time later, the police witness testified, he passed a table, which waiters would have to pass in carrying out their duties, and on it he saw glasses containing alcohol.

"In full view at the foot of a patron under the table was a part-full bottle of whiskey," stated Sgt Maitland.

Also on the floor, he continued, was an empty bottle and another half-empty bottle. There were six glasses on the table, he said.

At this point the trial was adjourned to Friday morning because a policeman who was to have given evidence was not available.

Edwin Pearlman is defending the accused.

Vancouver Man Wins Appeal Against Term

British Columbia Court of Appeal yesterday allowed the appeal of a Vancouver man convicted of possessing housebreaking tools and sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment, August 8, by County Court Judge Bruce Boyd.

The appellant, Lawrence Douglas Hoy, 31, last week told court that the punch and tire iron found in his car were for automobile repairs and that the sledgehammer also seized by police was to be used in digging a pit.

The appeal was stood over for a week until yesterday for consideration by court.

New Gyro President

GEORGE GREGORY

Prominent young Victoria lawyer who will head Victoria Gyro Club for 1950-51 term. He was elected by acclamation at meeting held Monday night at Lougheed's Banquet Hall. Installation banquet will be held at Colwood Golf Club on Saturday, September 30, at 6 30 p.m.

Eye Surgery Seeks to Cure Rare Ailment

A city businessman is in good condition at Jubilee Hospital following a delicate eye operation to save his sight yesterday.

Victim of an unusual eye ailment was Ernie D. Todd, 308 Island Road.

Mr. Todd was grouse-hunting Saturday and was lining his sights on a bird when he was suddenly left sightless in one eye.

An operation was performed by Dr. H. G. Grieve yesterday.

A member of his family said that Mr Todd had a tiny rip in the retina of the eye which had separated it from the eye wall—classed in the medical field as a "detached retina."

Group Names Ten Delegates

Members of the Oak Bay Conservative Association were named to attend the Provincial convention to be held in Vancouver October 6 and 7 at a special meeting of the organization, Tuesday night, in St Mary's Hall, Oak Bay.

Col. H. T Goodland, president of the association, and ten other delegates will attend the convention.

They are Capt. L. S Dayues, Mr. and Mrs. R A. Wootton, Mr. and Mrs. J L. Mara, Major F. V. Longstaff, Mrs. H T. Goodland, Mrs. D. C. F. McArthur, Mrs R. D. Harvey and Major Keith McDougall.

Pay Boosts Given Fish Firm Crews

Some 400 employees of six Vancouver fishing companies have gained wage increases of $10 to $15 a month, Labor Relations Board announced yesterday.

Other awards include monthly wage instead of minimum monthly guarantee and revision of contract unloading rates.

The employees are members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union.

Plenty of Truth in Every City's Claim To Be Fastest Growing Spot in Canada

Every city from Victoria to Toronto claims to be the fastest-growing town in Canada, Real Estate Board of Victoria was told yesterday.

The speaker was Dean Mansell, vice-president of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.

"When I was in Victoria it was hinted to me in a more or less gentlemanly fashion that Victoria was the fastest-growing city in Western Canada. I had thought that Vancouver was, but I believed it.

QUITE BLUNT ABOUT IT

"In Calgary they were more blunt about it. They told me straight away that Calgary was the fastest-growing city in Western Canada, and proved it, too.

"In Lethbridge they don't wait for you to cool off when you arrive. They're in there like bird-dogs. They tell you right away that Lethbridge is the fastest-growing town per capita in the Dominion of Canada. They'll prove it, too—show you pieces that were bald-headed prairie yesterday.

"In Edmonton they tell you you're crazy if you don't believe that Edmonton is the fastest-growing city in Canada."

BY LEAPS, BOUNDS

"The interesting thing is that they are all right. They're all growing tremendously. Western Canada is growing by leaps and bounds.

"The same thing applies to Toronto. Eastern Canada is growing too.

"Don't worry about where the people are coming from. The economists say they shouldn't be here, or they should be going broke. Don't worry about that. Do business with them."

STORES ATTRACT HOMES

Mr Mansell mentioned a $22,000,000 new suburban store development in Seattle, planted in an area which was not previously built up at all. Because the area offers freedom from congestion and ample shopping facilities, people will go there and houses will spring up around, he said.

"It's going to work."

Another similar development in Seattle has already proved its worth, Mr. Mansell said.

Realtors and members of every other profession can achieve more by co-operation than by ignoring one another, he said.

PRAISES B.C. ACT

He praised British Columbia's real estate agents' licensing act. In Quebec there is no such legislation, and any man can put through a real estate deal merely by paying a trades licence. Result is that the realtors who maintain offices and have to meet overhead expenses lose a fair amount of business.

Since July 1 there have been 63 applications on Vancouver Island and in the lower Mainland for licences to practice as real estate salesmen. Seven were granted immediately. Forty-seven were found to be suitable but not completely trained. They were granted interim licences. They will have to come back in six months and write examinations. Nine were turned down altogether.

Mr. Mansell mentioned that Brigadier F. N. Cabledu, chairman of the Victoria board, has allowed his name to go forward as a candidate for regional vice-president of the Canadian association for British Columbia.

Two new active members and one affiliate member were admitted to the Victoria board.

Will Conduct Post-Mortem

A post-mortem will be conducted to discover the cause of death of a 49-year-old city woman who was found dead in hotel room yesterday.

Police discovered the body of Mrs. Ellen Fanny Hansen in a room at the Lorson Hotel Wednesday after they were summoned by Arthur J. Loftus.

Investigation is being carried out by Detective Louis Callan.

To Name Slate On October 11

Camosun Toastmaster Club No 757 will hold its annual election of officers October 11.

Preparations were made last night at the regular weekly dinner meeting at the Strathcona Hotel.

Toastmaster was Dave Oliphant and topic master was Colin Fensham. Chairman was Steve Finlay. Guests included Greg Crawley, of Seattle University, L. A Selzler, Bob Mitchell and Pate Littlewood.

Tom Wilson was inducted as the first new member since the start of the Autumn meetings of the club.

CANNING PLANTS

There are some 500 canning plants in Canada handling fruit and vegetable products alone.

Summonses Come Next

Merchants Get Reminder Of Trades Licence Fees

Delinquents who have not yet paid fees under the trades licence by-law which came into effect last July 16 are being reminded that summonses may be issued in the near future for failure to comply with regulations.

Trades Licence Inspector William Wallis stated yesterday that letters were being mailed to city merchants who have not yet paid licence fees for the last half of this year. He said the letters pointed out that summonses may be issued for failure to comply with regulations.

NOT 1949 BY-LAW

Mr. Wallis declared the trades licence by-law which came into effect last July was not the controversial by-law challenged by city lawyers and still in the hands of the courts. The controversial by-law was passed by the 1949 City Council, while the new by-law was passed by the 1950 council.

The trades licence inspector disclosed that there were "possibly 500" merchants in various trades who were not up-to-date in trades licence payments. He said this was the usual number of delinquents on the books at this time of year.

"Action will be taken about the first of next month against delinquents," stated Mr. Wallis.

He said the job of mailing letters to delinquents was just beginning.

Legion Scholarship for Esquimalt Girl

Annual scholarship presented by Provincial Command of Canadian Legion has been awarded to 17-year-old Dorothy Archer, 1091 Colville Road, Esquimalt. She was told the good news at monthly meeting of Esquimalt Branch last night. Above photo shows (left to right), Carl Pallas, zone commander; J. L. Martin, James Island, fourth vice-president, Provincial Command, Miss Archer, and Councillor Jack Carey, president of Esquimalt branch

"Most Important"

Legion Zone Commander Stresses Need for Distinctive Canadian Flag

Need for an all-Canadian flag was stressed by Carl Pallas, Vancouver Island zone commander of the Canadian Legion, at the monthly meeting of the Esquimalt Branch last night.

He told the 40 members present "it is high time we in Canada get a flag even if it means stepping on somebody's toes."

Mr Pallas added that in his opinion it was the most important subject discussed at the recent Dominion convention held at Winnipeg.

A flag now under review by the Legion was displayed by a delegate from Quebec. The Union Jack was displayed in the top left hand corner against a background of blue and white stripes representing the ten provinces of Canada. The French fleur-de-lis was superimposed on the stripes.

One delegate, according to Mr Pallas, stood up and demanded the French fleur-de-lis be removed. Delegates from British Columbia thought it should remain. The issue was finally referred to the Dominion executive of the Legion.

Another resolution passed at the convention dealt with pensions.

It requested the Government increase the basic 100 per cent pension for an unmarried veteran without dependents from $94 to $125 per month. It further resolved that all other pension awards by the Canadian Pension Commission be increased by corresponding amounts.

"If the country is going to sit back and allow the cost of living to rise, we are not going to stand by and see the veterans suffer," Mr Pallas said.

ENDORSED REMARKS

J. L. Martin, secretary of the Saanich Peninsula Branch of the Legion, who also attended the convention, endorsed Mr Pallas' remarks.

He touched briefly on the housing situation in Victoria and other parts of Canada.

"I have talked to people from Edmonton and they are worse off than we are—and Calgary is even worse off than Edmonton," he declared.

The hard-working Esquimalt Branch of the Legion presented a scholarship to a 17-year-old Esquimalt girl shortly before the business meeting got under way.

She was Dorothy Archer, 1091 Colville Road, who will start her advanced studies at the University of British Columbia next week.

Alberta P.C.'s Plan Comeback

EDMONTON, Sept. 20 (CP)—J. Ross Henderson of Calgary, president of the recently re-organized Progressive Conservative Party in Alberta, indicated in an interview here today that his party may return to Provincial politics this year for the first time in 15 years.

Mr Henderson said his party is considering nomination of a candidate for the Provincial by-election in the Olds Riding. The seat, held by the Social Credit Party for the last 10 years, has been vacant since the death this summer of N. E. Cook.

Lumber Operators in B.C. Receive $20,000,000 Order From Britain

British Columbia has resumed its old role as supplier of timber for the United Kingdom market.

West Coast lumber operators announced yesterday that the British Timber Control has placed a $20,000,000 lumber order calling for shipment of 260,000,000 board feet by June 30, 1951.

The announcement confirms a prediction made in a Daily Colonist story some time ago.

It was believed that the United Kingdom—which has turned from Canadian to European suppliers in recent years—had grown dissatisfied with the irregularity of shipments from Europe and the failure of some European timber mills to meet commitments.

RELIABLE SUPPLY

Britain is thought to be seeking a long-term reliable supply. Canadian operators want a long-term reliable market.

Earlier this year Britain ordered 200,000,000 feet from British Columbia—a relatively small quantity.

Lumber to meet the new contract, which is the largest single order on the West Coast for several years, will be shipped at the rate of 30,000,000 feet a month for eight and a half months.

Victoria operators believe that the order will come from normal production and will not call for any change to operating schedules.

BELOW U.S. PRICES

Operators said the new order was "several dollars per thousand" below prices being paid by the booming American market, but declined to state exact figures.

Lumbermen know that the present high American prices will not last forever. They are interested in securing the United Kingdom market as a long-term proposition.

The new contract came after the visit of several prominent West Coast lumbermen to Britain on the timber comptroller's invitation.

AIR FORCE DAY

Air Force Day, when R.C.A.F. stations hold open house, was first held in 1947.

U.S. INFLUENCE

MOSCOW (CP)—The Helsinki correspondent of Pravda says that Finland is becoming more and more subject to American influence. He accused the Social Democrats of having opened the country to American spies disguised as Mormons, Quakers and other tourists.

BRAZIL'S DOLLARS

During the first six months of 1950 Brazil had a favorable balance in trade with the United States amounting to $112,653,000.
